The scene begins inside the Watsco Center in Miami as fireworks explode from the rampway. A massive DEFITron sits above the entrance, twice the size of the screen typically used for DEFTv. LCD lettering M-A-X-I-M-U-M stretches across the rampway, with the "I" being used for the entrance from Gorilla and is shaped in the form of a palm tree... but the palm tree is covered in snow. There are two palm trees flanking the edge of the stage on both sides with beach balls and towels scattered around them... but they are also covered in snow. An LCD rampway projects nothing but snow from the top of the stage to the edge of the ring apron. The top and bottom ring ropes are dark blue and the middle one is white. The canvas is clean and light blue as always but has advertisement stamps on the turnbuckle padding for local safe spaces and rage rooms.

FAVORED SAINTS CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH

DDK:

I've been told that we're starting the evening off with a match that was a closely guarded secret since Henry Keyes won his fourth title defense with the Favored Saints Championship.

Lance:

That's right, Darren. After vacating it for his shot at the Southern Heritage Championship, a new Favored Saints Champion needed to be crowned. Tonight is the night that happens!

DDK:

As for who the participants in the match are? That's the real Scooby-Doo worthy mystery, folks.

Lance:

I've got some guesses but they're probably ALL wrong.

We switch to Darren Quimbey who is standing by with his microphone.

Darren Quimbey:

Ladies and Gentlemen, this is the opening match of MAXIMUM DEFIANCE 2022... and it is for the Favored Saints Championship!

The Faithful cheer loudly for this announcement but quickly grow quiet as they await the first person involved in the match to make their way out.

DDK:

Psst. Who you got?

Lance:

Okay. So, I've thought about everyone from Capital Punishment coming out of retirement to a returning star like Edward White buying his way back into DEFIANCE Wrestling with an immediate title shot. I've even thought about Frank Holiday returning as well and them making it a triple threat!

DDK:

I guess anything's possible.

Lance:

So, who do you have?

DDK:

My money's on two BRAZEN stars.

Lance:

Which ones?

DDK:

Completely agree with you, Lance. But, let's see who his opponent is before we start thinking about who's winning anything.

Brian Slater yells at Noble to bring it to the ring, garnering a surprising set of jeers from the bloodthirsty section of the arena that wants to see Pleasant's blood across his boot. Picking Noble up by his hair, Pleasant receives an admonishment as he pulls Noble in with a headlock. Slapping Pleasant's back, a groggy Noble sends Pleasant into the ropes. On the rebound, Pleasant sends Noble down with a shoulder block. Off into the other direction, Noble is up again and heading into the opposite ropes. Noble baseball slides under Pleasant, catching him off-guard for a moment.

With great agility for a two-hundred and forty-five pound man, Noble hops up onto Pleasant as if going for a victory roll. Pleasant, showing surprising strength, holds Noble up. Noble goes to roll forward, but Pleasant actually muscles Noble back up onto his shoulders in a display of strength that actually wows the watching Faithful.

Lance:

I don't know if anybody caught it during his introduction, but Arthur Pleasant put on some pounds. And I will bathe myself in bleach later, but dare I say he looks great. Is that the makings of a six-pack?!

DDK:

I think so, Lance. This is the best Arthur Pleasant's physique has looked since he started here. I'm... kind of shocked, to be completely honest.

With Noble sitting atop his shoulders, Pleasant takes a few shots to the dome before pushing him forward. Grabbing Noble with a sleeper hold, Noble instinctively, and very quickly, pulls Pleasant towards the ropes. Kicking his legs up onto the top rope, he pushes back, causing Pleasant to roll back. More importantly, Noble rolls back with the sleeper still applied and Slater is right there to make the count.

One!

Two!

Pleasant muscles his way out of the pin attempt, and both men get to their feet. The audience gives both competitors an ovation as they are at a stalemate with one another after the impressive sequence of wrestling.

DDK:

Well, I'm in shock. Is Arthur ACTUALLY going to wrestle for this one?!

Lance:

It appears so, Darren. I'll mark it on the calendar.

Both competitors circle each other after the previous chain wrestling and join together in the center of the ring with a collar-and-elbow tie-up. Noble grabs Pleasant in a side-headlock. Pleasant sends Noble off this time and on the rebound, Noble connects with a shoulder block that sends Pleasant down to the ground. Noble is off to the ropes, but Pleasant reaches out with an arm and trips him so that he falls flat on his stomach.

Pleasant immediately dives forward with a reverse side headlock on the mat. Noble struggles to find his way out of this, but getting to his knees, Noble reaches up with his right arm, grabs Pleasant's neck and forces him down to the mat face first and reverses with a side headlock of his own!

Lance:

Okay. This is... this is... this is actually...

DDK:

Lance:

I just... can't believe it. Where the hell has THIS Arthur been this whole time?!

DDK:

We've seen it very sparingly, but it's no secret that, whatever he wants to call himself- The Provocateur, The Plaguebeast, or the tongue-in-cheek PURE Wrestler of DEFIANCE- can wrestle WHEN he wants to.

Pleasant tries to get to his knees as well, but Noble stuffs the attempt by squeezing harder on his head and muscling him down to the mat. Realizing he would not win a battle of strength with Noble, Pleasant instead uses great wherewithal and speed to roll to his right and turn the grounded side-headlock into a bridging pin attempt.

One!

Noble shifts his weight back down to the left where he once again has Pleasant in a side-headlock. Pleasant uses the same strategy as before and rolls to his right, catching Noble in a bridging pin attempt again.

One!

Two!

This time, Noble shifts right, and escapes the hold entirely. Both men are quickly on their feet. Running at each other, Noble catches Pleasant with a headlock takedown where both men are airborne for half-a-second. Upon landing, Noble wrenches in a side-headlock, this time with Pleasant's back to the mat.

It's not long before Pleasant swings his legs up and wraps them around Noble's neck. Noble refuses to let go though, and with Pleasant accidentally put in a sticky situation, he leans down into the side headlock. Noble pushes down on Pleasant's legs while they remain cross-crossed around his neck. Slater recognizes that Pleasant's shoulders are down for the count.

Pigs are flying, too.

Just as he releases his legs, Pleasant searches for a way out. He tries to get up off of the canvas, but Noble muscles him back down. Pleasant throws his legs up again, but this time is able to roll completely backwards. This causes Noble to loosen his grip long enough to allow Arthur to put both legs in a criss-cross position behind Noble in a rear triangle choke.

Lance:

Noble could be in dire straits here.

Pleasant wastes no time by hammering some elbows down onto the crown of Noble's head. One after another, he aims to open him up, but after the third shot, Noble catches the fourth by Pleasant's wrist.

DDK:

Oh hell, what is he doing with Arthur's wrist?!

Twisting it, Pleasant pulls back, but Noble pulls him towards him. The Plaguebeast is close enough to Noble's head where the former Southern Heritage Champion is able to keep him close. Pleasant yells as Noble begins pulling him so close that he's created a makeshift stump puller out of the rear triangle choke!

Lance:

Well. THAT is certainly innovative. My God!

DDK:

I don't know how the hell Noble managed to turn being placed in a triangle to putting his opponent into a stump puller! Did someone freakin' divide by zero backstage and why did Rezin do it?

Slater is watching both men closely. Pleasant cries out in agony. As does Noble. Looking at them both, Slater asks each of them if they want to give up. Neither man seems to budge with their respective hold, though. Finally, after a solid minute in each other's holds, Pleasant unwraps his legs from Noble's throat and peels himself away from Noble's grip.

Pleasant holds the back of his neck while Noble holds his throat.

Lance:

Both competitors did damage to the other in that simultaneous submission predicament.

DDK:

I think the bigger story here, though, is David Noble's throat. Lest we forget, the last time David wrestled he suffered a serious throat injury at the hands of Crimson Stalker. That wound could still be very fresh even if he has been medically cleared!

Both men get to their feet, holding the backs and fronts of their necks, respectively. Noble is the first to assert some offense as he throws a punch at Pleasant. Arthur is rocked a bit and Noble throws another, sending him reeling into the ropes. Leaning into Pleasant, Noble shoots him into the opposite side of the ring. On the rebound, Pleasant jumps, but Noble catches him in mid-air and slams him to the mat with his signature Saito suplex!

Lance:

Lance:

That Saito Suplex was devastating. The Plaguebeast may only be 225lbs, but you could hear the impact across the arena with how hard Noble came down with it!

Noble looks unsurprised by Pleasant's resiliency, having gone to battle with him in other parts of the world. Guiding him to his feet, Noble goes for another Saito Suplex, this time standing side by side. Lifting up, Noble spins and slams Pleasant down hard once again. This time hooking a leg. Watching the saliva drip down Noble's face, Pleasant smirks. Scooping him up, Pleasant holds Noble up for what looks to be a tombstone piledriver. But Noble uses his twenty-pound weight advantage and reverses it by slipping down behind Arthur with his arms hooks behind his back. Now having Pleasant in position for a tombstone piledriver,

Noble drives him down head first into the wrestling mat.

"BOOOOOOOOOOO!"

Lance:

Pleasant just nearly lost this one. Good call on NOT attacking the ref. Jeez.

DDK:

Not only that but, again, no champion's advantage here when the title is vacant. David Noble could very well become the Favored Saints Champion if Arthur Pleasant treats Brian Slater like he has Carla Ferrari in the past.

As if the Faithful's hatred were fuel for a near-empty tank, Pleasant holds his arms out with a very warm and welcoming intent. Bending down, Arthur sets Noble up into a seated position. Running into the ropes from behind, Pleasant nails Noble in the back of the head with an inverted shining wizard. The crack echoes throughout the filled-to-capacity Watsco Center as the 8,000 fans in attendance let out an "OOOOOOH" at the amount of malice put on the inverted shining wizard. Rather than go for a cover, Pleasant lifts Noble into a seated position again. Running into the ropes facing Noble, Pleasant comes off with an equally harsh front-facing shining wizard.

Lance:

Arthur raises his hand up.

Screaming in agony, Pleasant slaps the mat once, but does not tap. He digs in with his foot and tries to pull David and his bodyweight toward the ropes. Noble's grip is like a vice as Pleasant desperately tries to find an escape from this tortuous position.

Arthur raises his hand up again as he loses his footing a mere eight or so inches away from the bottom rope.

With great agility, Noble rolls backwards to his feet and pivots towards the opposite turnbuckles. Once again, Noble sprints and then leaps to the second turnbuckle, pushing himself out. Of COURSE Cerberus had a plan tonight! Their numbers game gives them a big advantage here!

And as referee Hector Navarro warns Rick Dickulous to go back to his corner, Reaper Green comes into the ring quickly and helps out Victor Vacio by putting the boots to Minute! They both continue stomping him down until Uriel yells at Navarro to turn around. With the quickness, Reaper Green ducks out of the ring while the legal man, Victor Vacio, quickly sneaks a cover on Minute while he's down!

ONE...

TWO... NO!

The shoulder of Minute comes up, but Vacio hasn't forgotten the loss that he took, so he continues to rain down fists on the masked face of The TJ Tornado!

DDK:

I hate to say it, but this was a brilliant strategy on their part. Uriel and Minute can only do so much here.

Lance:

And now... standing moonsault by Vacio! Cover on Minute!

After connecting with the standing moonsault, he covers Minute quickly with a cover!

ONE...

TWO... NO!

Minute kicks out again, not allowing Cerberus to steal the quick victory. Vacio grabs Minute by the arm and then whips him into the neutral corner of Cerberus, running forward and then hitting a corner elbow smash! He tags Reaper Green, who quickly rolls through the ropes into the ring, then hits a corner elbow smash of his own! He quickly grabs the head of Minute and throws him out of the corner before he measures him up and then fires off a sliding dropkick off the ropes, right to the back!

DDK:

Rapid-fire double teams! Cerberus are playing a great game here right now!

Reaper Green pushes Minute's shoulders back on the canvas, then tries another cover.

ONE...

TWO... KICKOUT!

Another quick kickout elicits cheers from The Faithful! The jam-packed Watsco Center is cheering on Los Tres Titanes while Reaper Green grabs onto Minute and then tosses him back into the corner of Cerberus again. Reaper Green reaches out and tags Victor Vacio, who jumps over the ropes. They both look to cut off Minute from his corner and then they both put the boots to the talented young luchador. They continue to work him over with stomps while all the way in the opposite corner, both men are getting jeered by the crowd!

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

Rick Dickulous continues laughing on the outside at Minute's apparent misfortunes as Victor Vacio now controls things for a time. Vacio pulls him out of the corner and then tries to pull Minute into a short-arm clothesline...

But Minute rolls underneath the arm!

The TJ Tornado rolls to his feet, then CRACKS him in the side of the head with a quick enzuigiri! Minute sees Uriel Cortez into the corner... but instead of making the tag, he grabs Vacio's arm and pulls him to the corner...

DDK:

Oh, no! I think that the trap that Cerberus laid out at the start is about to backfire huge!

Lance:

If he gets that tag, then it just might!

Vacio tries to free himself, but Minute gets him to the corner...

THEN TAGS URIEL CORTEZ!

The tallest man in DEFIANCE gets a big pop as he steps over the ropes! Vacio tries to get away, but Uriel joins in grabbing Vacio!

DDK:

DDK:

What a shot right there! Those chops of Uriel Cortez... so stinging! Rick felt them in their singles match and though he got the duke, Rick left with some welts.

The Lumbergiant at ringside looks pissed at how his teammates are doing for the moment after earlier when he tried to help serve up Minute on a silver platter. Minute is recovering at ringside for the moment in their corner, but that suits Uriel Cortez just fine. He picks up Vacio over the shoulder and then picks him up, holding him in a delayed body slam position! The crowd starts to cheer him on, the longer that Uriel holds him up...

And up...

And up...

Then DRIVES him down with a massive body slam from high in the air!

Lance:

Oooh! Now Los Tres Titanes take a bit of control after that jumpstart from Cerberus early on in the match!

The Titan of Industry grabs Victor Vacio once again and then ragdolls the evil luchador out to the ring apron, forcing Rick to watch. Uriel dares Rick to try something, but in full view of Hector Navarro, he angrily stares. Vacio tries to fight, but the much more powerful Cortez puts his arms behind the ropes and exposes his bare chest...

And Reaper Green has seen enough! He tries to help his partner!

He rushes at Cortez with a running dropkick, but gets swatted out of the sky! When he hits the mat, Cortez grabs him and chucks him through the ropes, sending him out next to Victor Vacio! The Lost Cause and the Emerald Menace (nickname free of charge) are both on the outside when Uriel looks over to see Minute wanting the tag...

Uriel Cortez with the tag to Minute!

Minute is back in after a rest while Uriel Cortez cleaned house! Now what's he doing, though?

Ready to get back into the saddle, The TJ Tornado makes the tag and then whispers something in Uriel's ear. He

DDK:

You hear the term "Human Highlight Reel" in this business, but that's what Minute truly is! So innovative with his high flying! Amazing!

Lance:

He used his own damn partner as a launching pad before hitting that incredible springboard moonsault!

A pair of replays from different angles show the truly unique double-team perpetrated by Los Tres Titanes! And then back to real time where Minute is the first one to get out of the wreckage at ringside. He taunts Rick Dickulous by yelling at him.

Minute:

Come get this work, puta!

Rick Dickulous wants nothing more than to come over there and knock Minute's block off, but Hector Navarro has his eyes everywhere for the moment, making sure no funny business goes down, not to mention Uriel Cortez hopping off the apron to protect his partner as he goes to throw Victor Vacio back into the ring.

DDK:

The Lost Cause back inside! Uriel Cortez watches on as Minute hits the apron... he leaps up...

Minute then RUNS THE ROPES before leaping off with a rope running dropkick!

DDK:

Modified Estrella Fugaz! He drops Vacio!

After the move, the crowd cheer for Minute as he hooks the leg!

ONE!

TWO!

KICKOUT!

The shoulder of The Lost Cause rises up off the mat!

Lance:

I don't know how Vacio kicked out of that!

DDK:

Former BRAZEN Champion and we've seen him have scraps against some of the best in DEFIANCE. He can take as much punishment as he dishes out... and that's a lot.

Greenie goes back to his corner while Minute grabs Vacio by the head and tags Cortez again. Both men go to work with Uriel whipping Vacio to the ropes as Minute lays on the mat. He gets dropped into an upwards dropkick by Minute, then staggers into a shoulder tackle by Cortez!

DDK:

Another great double-team! Los Tres Titanes are really holding court right now in this one. Cortez now goes for a cover!

The Titan of Industry kneels over...

ONE!

TWO!

SLIDING DROPKICK BY REAPER GREEN!

Out of nowhere, he nails Cortez in the side of the head to break up the cover! The unexpected shot stuns the Titan as he sits to his knees, allowing Victor Vacio finally a moment to get out of harm's way.

Victor Vacio:

Tienes suerte de que no tengo mi mazo, gilipollas!

Vacio rolls over and he's in pain, but limps over to his corner and tags in Reaper Green. He goes over and both men go to double-team Uriel Cortez while he's on his knees.

DDK:

Both men looking for control of Cortez now!

They each grab an arm, but before they're able to do what they are going to do, he stands up and stands in place to prevent a double whip. When that doesn't work, both men kick at the legs of the 7'2" Titan to try and bring him down to a knee again. They are successfully able to do so, but Cortez fights back with another HARD chop for Victor Vacio! He stumbles over when Cortez palms Reaper Green's face and shoves him back!

Lance:

No! Cortez in control! But for how long?

He boots Vacio... then picks him up for the 218cm Powerbomb... but Reaper Green back up! He tries to kick his leg as Vacio leans back to try a hurricanrana. Reaper Green grabs Navarro... ALLOWING RICK DICKULOUS TO CLIP HIS LEG!

DDK:

No! Rick Dickulous gets another good shot in! He's got him backed up!

...then Vacio shifts out of the powerbomb to hit a Swinging DDT on Cortez! The crowd jeer as Rick Dickulous once again provides a distraction that pays dividends!

DDK:

Cerberus took a lot, but now Cortez is now flat on his back! Vacio and Reaper Green have a Lumbergiant in their corner to chop down even the largest of Titans!

Minute glares at Rick Dickulous who fires back with a verbal jab from earlier.

Rick Dickulous:

The little fucking chihuahua ain't barking now, is he?

The TJ Tornado grits his teeth and has no choice, but to watch the members of Cerberus pick off a giant. Uriel is still down from the swinging DDT by Victor Vacio, who now jumps over to his corner to tag in Reaper Green. Vacio measures up Uriel, waiting for him to try and get up, but the moment he does, he gets brought back down with a superkick right on the button!

DDK:

Superkick by Victor Vacio! And where's Reaper Green going?.

He heads to the middle of the apron, leaps up and then DRIVES both feet down into the chest of Cortez with a springboard double foot stomp! The crowd cringes at the sick, but deadly move as Reaper Green recovers from the landing!

Lance:

There's been great teamwork on display by both teams! Hit and run on Cortez! Cover by Reaper Green!

ONE!

TWO!

After the count of two, Cortez LAUNCHES Green off of him with a shove!

Lance:

Oooh! Lot of fire behind that kickout! Now Cortez finds himself in a rare spot of being worked over.

Instead of wasting time arguing with the referee, Reaper Green makes another tag to Victor Vacio and then both men nod to one another. As Cortez tries to sit up, both men run at the ropes and then blindside him from either side, sandwiching his head between basement dropkicks!

DDK:

Stereo dropkicks! It doesn't matter how big you are - two of those coming at anyone's head will ring anyone's bell!

Lance:

We thought this might have turned into a mismatch once Los Tres Titanes survived the opening attacks by Cerberus, but with Rick's presence at ringside, they've taken control any time they've lost it.

DDK:

Now look at Vacio!

The Mexico City native grabs the redwood-like left leg of Cortez and then kicks away at the hamstring! Uriel howls out, then tries to swat his former rival away, only to hit a grounded variation on a dragon screw, snapping the leg back on the canvas! Cortez cries out... then ANOTHER quick tag to Reaper Green!

DDK:

Greenie going up top... what does he have planned?

He leaps and targets Uriel's knee with a big frog splash, making those howls from earlier get louder!

Lance:

Look at them go! Uriel hasn't been able to get up since Rick's involvement. And we're starting to see that it's only a small matter of time before Cerberus close in on the victory!

And after Reaper Green targets the leg... he comes back with another tag to Victor Vacio. The Lost Cause enters the ring and then leaps off the ropes with an Arabian Press!

DDK:

Arabian Press out of the corner! Cerberus about to score a HUGE win!

Vacio tries to hook a leg!

DDK:

Uriel Cortez is the tallest active competitor in DEFIANCE, but the big man needs to get to his corner soon!

Vacio grabs the leg of Cortez and then applies a modified leg lock, all the while punching the knee with a free hand! He twists and contorts the knee of Uriel while attacking with more strikes to wear down the limb!

DDK:

Cortez needs to get to his corner soon! Minute is ready to go, but Uriel is still too far away for the tag!

Lance:

He's trying to free himself! Look!

Vacio tries to crank away at the leg and continues to strike away at the knee. Minute looks out to the Miami Faithful and then stomps on the ring apron, yelling out to the fans and then getting them to clap with him. They continue to clap and stomp while Uriel tries to pry Vacio off of him. He tries to kick the leg away, but Vacio cranks back... so Uriel counters the best way he can do so...

THWACK!

A HUGE chop across the chest of Vacio knocks the wind out of him, then Cortez throws a second one...

And finally frees himself!

DDK:

OOH! That's one way to counter a leg lock when you can reach your opponent! Now can Uriel get where he needs to go?

The Titan of Industry pulls him away just as Reaper Green reaches out and then makes the tag after Vacio crawls to his corner. But it's too little, too late...

TAG TO MINUTE!

RRRRRRRRRRRRRRRAAAAHHHHH!

DDK:

Here we go! Minute back into the fray!

Minute takes the tag and then leaps into the ring with a springboard missile dropkick, catching Reaper Green in the chest! Minute then kips up to his feet as he notices Victor Vacio trying to get back into the ring. He rolls at him with a somersault, then comes out of the move with a STIFF front dropkick that knocks him right off the apron! As he gets up, he leaps off the ropes and then takes Reaper Green over with a flying headscissors that sends him sailing through the ropes and landing outside the ring. Another ad appears for the CLASH of the BRAZEN: Ascension card! Coming July 27th to DEFonDemand!

CORVO ALPHA vs. MV1

DDK:

We go from tag team warfare to a tag team that has been pulled apart... Up next, it's Masked Violator #1 doing battle against Corvo Alpha. Lance, tell us what we are looking for from our next contest?

Lance:

I've been following this story closely since the dramatic return of MV1 at DEFIANCE Road where he confronted his former partner, a man now known as the monster Corvo Alpha. It's important to note that while MV1 and MV2 weren't always known for getting on all that well even when they teamed-

Still images, dated 2017, of the Masked Violators first embroiled in a tag match and then embroiled in a physical squabble against each other slowly scroll across the screen, ending on a still shot, dated just two weeks ago, of Corvo Alpha delivering a horrific superkick to the head & neck of MV1 at DEFTv 172..

Lance:

-what we saw two weeks ago and what we are about to see tonight... is different.

DDK:

"Different" is an understatement, I think! That's because Corvo Alpha himself is not the man he once was. We saw that as well two weeks ago when he rejected the Masked Violators AND MV1 by burning his old Masked Violator #2 mask.

An image lingers on the screen: the moment Alpha drops the yellow mask into the fire, his damp eyes a churning reflection of gleaming flame.

Lance:

Masked Violator #1 is bound and determined to prove that there's still a MAN inside Corvo Alpha somewhere. He says that no matter what, tonight, he's bringing his former tag partner and perhaps former best-friend home.

We cut to a pre-recorded backstage interview clip set against a bright red backdrop. Pacing before it, MV1 is amped and animated. He pivots towards the camera on cue.

MV1 (pre-recorded):

You know, I've been walking the hot streets of Miami the last few days and everybody's been stopping me saying "MV1, don't do it! Corvo is out of control! He can't be saved!" I get to the arena this morning and I'm cornered by a few of the boys in the back saying... "1, you've gotta be outta your mind! Your friend is gone! What's left is dangerous! He has broken everyone who's faced him! Don't do it!" I respect the opinion of my peers and I value the feedback of my fans, more than words can say. But - respectfully - this is something I have to do. It's bigger than me, it's bigger than all of this! There's some incredibly talented men and women backstage that are putting a lot on the line tonight and tomorrow. They've got a lot at stake and I'm drawing inspiration from them. I'd never tell ANY of them not to give it all they've got for what they believe in! There are people all around the world fighting for justice and opportunities for all that I draw inspiration from, everyday! I'd never tell ANY of them to NOT keep going! I'd never tell ANY of them it's not worth it, to give up, to walk away from what they know is right!

Leveling his azure stare at the camera, MV1 crosses muscular arms across a broad chest.

MV1 (pre-recorded):

I get it. I know the odds are stacked against me. Just like they've been stacked against us all, so many times before. But I'm not giving up.

Taking a step forward, his voice is just above a whisper.

MV1 (pre-recorded):

And I'd never tell you to, either.

He steps off-screen just a moment before the pre-recorded interview cuts back to our announce team.

DDK:

You can't deny that he is laser focused, Lance.

I don't think anyone can question MV1's focus. You just heard him say it: people are questioning if he's too late, if Corvo is too far gone. But you ask MV1 and he will tell you: this is bigger than him. He's fighting for his friend's very soul tonight... and to free him... he's going to have to FACE him in the ring.

Corvo Alpha has come for MAXDEF and he has come for MV1.

Darren Quimbey:

And his opponent...

Lord Nigel comes to a rest atop the rampway, allowing Alpha to step around him and eventually turn to kneel at the foot of his Lord. Nigel sets each bucket down, the booing crescendos as Corvo dips his left hand in one bucket – pulling out a dripping red mess of paint with it. He slowly smears it across his hirsute chest, a dramatic slash of crimson. Submerging and retrieving his right hand from the other bucket, Alpha globs a crude black smudge across his own closed eyes and forehead, dripping down his face. The strange ritual concluded, Alpha lumbers back to his feet and slowly turns to face the ring – whites of his eyes locked on MV1.

ANOTHER DEVASTATING CLOTHESLINE from Corvo Alpha! Taking the air out of this building.

As the crowd hisses and heckles him, Corvo Alpha's gaze slowly sweeps the Watsco Center with malice and contempt. He reaches down and wrenches on the mask of MV1, kneeling down now to more earnestly tear away at it.

Lance:

There is symbolism here, Keebler! Corvo Alpha killed who he was two weeks ago... and now he wants to take that away from this man, MV1. He wants to bury the Violators here in Miami, Florida!

Proving to be difficult fabric to rip through, MV1 works to struggle free - annoying Corvo long enough to regain his full attention.

MV1 goes to crawl under the rope and out of the ring, but Corvo grasps him by the strap of his red wrestling tights and pulls him back in and towards him. He smothers him with clenched hands.

DDK:

Clubbing, unprotected shots to the head with those forearms, those closed fists! To the back of the head and neck!

Jonny Fastcountini steps in for a moment, asserting himself for perhaps the first time in his still young career. Alpha's head swivels to glare at him and Jonny wilts.

Lance:

Careful, kid!

Alpha shoves Fastcountini to the mat, the fans letting him have it, some screaming for a disqualification as Alpha moves to tower over Jonny.

DDK:

Alpha doesn't know what he's doing here! He has to be careful! He can get DQ'd!

Finding an opportunity, MV1 then finds a knee. Then both feet beneath him. Just in time for Corvo to notice that his prey still yet lives, the yearning fans likely giving his movement away.

Lance:

Oh no...

DDK:

Alpha LUNGES – DROP TOE HOLD by MV1! You see that?!? Intentional or not, Corvo caught throat-first across that bottom rope when he went down! That's giving MV1 a chance! Giving him a moment to catch his breath... collect himself... come up with a plan...

Lance:

He has got to fight back, Keebs! He isn't going to outlast Alpha! Not this way! Not like this!

And with that, they both started a flurry of shots. Both men trade them. Each punch seems to come a little slower, a little harder, as they go. Alpha is driven to a knee after a THUNDEROUS right from MV1.

DDK:

Could this be it?!

MV1 grabs a clump of Corvo's long, wet, matted hair in his hand and pulls his head back to meet eyes. The camera can't hear his words but we imagine they are something to the effect of "I didn't come here to fight you, brother". Right eye red and swollen under his torn mask, MV1 pleads... a moment too long.

Lance:

LOW BLOW! LOW BLOW by Alpha! NO!

MV1 shudders down to his knees in a powerless heap just as Corvo finds his footing. He grabs 1's mask and pulls his old friend back to his tenuous footing. Alpha bounces off far ropes.

The camera lingers on a tight shot of MV1's face. Pink, bloody saliva briefly bubbles at his mask's mouth-hole. The light in his eyes slowly fades - then pulses back as he fights - then fades again, eyelids fluttering.

DDK:

MV1 is giving this everything he has! I don't know if we have EVER seen anyone power out of the Clutch! I don't know if MV1 has enough left in the tank!

The camera trails up at the wild, ugly face of Corvo Alpha, his own hair in his mouth as he screams, wrenching backwards - tightening his grip. Referee Jonny Fastcountini leans in to MV1, asking. MV1 stretches out an arm, reaching for a rope.

Lance:

I don't see how he can have anything left at all, Keebs!

The camera inches ever closer, under the rope and into the action. We hear air raggedly being squeezed from MV1's lungs. We hear Corvo groan as he resets his grip and lean back once more. We hear MV1 struggle to speak a name.

MV1: [half-off mic]

Reaching forward, not towards a rope, MV1 points instead towards the crowd. To the front row. If you were to look up at Corvo's face, you would note the puzzlement etched across it. The odd, strange recognition. You don't know the name.

MV1: [half-off mic]

...Mirabelle...

But Corvo Alpha does.

Eyes wide and fazed, Alpha follows MV1's extended arm, hand, and finally finger... he follows where it leads to the front row. Where a young girl sits, tears long streaming down her face. Corvo blinks, dropping MV1 in his grip slightly, granting him some relief...

The faithful around the building join in imploring Corvo Alpha to let his friend go, to go back to his little girl. To be the man he once was. Still holding MV1 up, loosely in his arms, Corvo surveys the arena, truly hearing them as if for the first time all over again. Suddenly, they sour all at once.

DDK:

Lance:

No! Get him out of here!

Corvo, to his credit, doesn't see him... his welling eyes still locked on the ten year old girl bawling in the front row. He sags where he stands, MV1 still mostly limp in his arms.

The camera cuts back to the little girl.

Girl:

Fuse throws Novick into the ring. Conor jumps onto the apron and then leaps onto the top rope. He measures Novick and performs a Phoenix splash! The Faithful are in awe at the grace to which Conor found the top rope and almost needed no time at all to connect with the high flying maneuver. Fuse hooks the leg and watches Shields count.

The crowd is alive! Everyone is thumping their feet. While many of the fans scream !RANK, it's also interchanged with AH! HA! HA!

However, the gamer stays game. He throws Novick between his legs...

And then Conor is rolled up!

Fuse looks EXTREMELY thankful it wasn't a three. He's on his feet first and attempts a pump kick to Novick who's on both knees... but the vampire awakens and rolls to his side, repositioning onto his knees and then laughing AH! HA! HA! Conor goes after Novick and tries for a thrust kick this time but The Count forward rolls across the canvas and props himself back on both knees, laughing.

Conor Fuse:

God damn really evil vampie, sit still!

Conor hits the ropes and aims for a superkick but Novick springs in the air at the VERY last second, coming to life as he jumps backwards and avoids the kick by mere millimeters. Novick charges at Fuse and whacks the gamer with a spinning heel kick. The Count knows this is no laughing matter anymore because he wants to pull off the upset. The Transylvania native leaps onto Conor Fuse's shoulders and looks for a hurricanrana but Fuse holds on and doesn't let Novick flip him around. It's reversed into a belly-to-back inverted mat slam (Style's Clash)!

Fuse kips up and smacks Novick in the chest.

Conor Fuse:

WEAPON GET!

Conor bounces off the ropes and nails I TRIGGER, Malak Garland's finishing move, a solid knee to the temple!

Some of the crowd boos, knowing who originally performs the move. Fuse notices the response and turns to the fans, putting a finger to his lips to silence them. He props Count Novick onto his feet and hits him again.

Conor Fuse:

DDK:

Conor connects with Bump in the Night! I believe that's one of Count Novick's signature moves!

And finally, not to be outdone, The Ultimate Gamer hits Novick in the chest one more time.

It takes the younger Fuse brother a moment but he's able to lift the vampire into position...

The crowd cheers and !RANKS along as Novick rolls out of the ring.

DDK:

All in all, not a bad showing for Count Novick.

Lance:

Hey, he held his own, got some shots in and outlasted a few solid moves from Conor. That Phoenix splash is no joke. It's not a maneuver Conor performs often.

Fuse rallies with the crowd as MAXIMUM DEFIANCE goes to a quick advertisement.

WE ARE

An image with borders of a Polaroid style frame of two young boys— possibly brothers aged between 8 to 10-years old— materializes from the abrupt transition after the previous commercial break. There's a loud "WE ARE!" chant heard that's been superimposed into the background of the aforementioned picture. It's sudden. It's jarring. It's LOUD.

The Polaroid picture shows both boys with a head of blonde hair. One has a headlock on the other and a smile on them both.

"WE ARE!"

The loud chant snaps our attention to the next picture that slides into focus. This one shows the two boys around the same age, wearing amateur wrestling outfits complete with Under Armour headgear. Clearly, it's a Youth Wrestling tournament with about a hundred parents watching on from the stands. Signs for E.P.E., Easterly Park Elementary, are littered throughout a gymnasium full of parents cheering on their sons and daughters.

The focus, for only a moment, is on one of the young boys we saw previously. In a short video clip with the same "Polaroid" borders we saw in the picture, he goes for a double-leg takedown on another young boy of equal size. Our boy in question is successful in his attempt and the other boy crashes to the ground in a heap.

We flash to a short video clip of another kid, presumably the other brother seen in the previous picture. He goes for a single-leg takedown on another equally sized boy and is as successful as his presumed brother was.

"WE ARE!"

Flash to another still picture of the two boys. This time they're in their teens, and their manes of hair are a lot longer and much more profound. Each of them sports a Letterman jacket and they are about 14 to 16 years old. Holding each other's shoulders with one arm and holding out a fist in a "cool" pose with one another, a much older man stands behind them. He's as proud as a Papa, and holds trophies in his arms with first place medals in each of his arms.

We switch to another short clip of one of the two adolescents, wearing similar amateur wrestling gear as before. He goes in for a takedown but shoots behind his opponent and takes him to the thin gymnasium mat harshly on the back of his neck. Floating over, he criss-crosses a leg on the kid's arm, trapping him as he stretches out his leg. It's not long before the referee calls for the point.

As expected, we flash to a second video of the other teenager. Holding his opponent by the waist, the second long-haired brother drives him forward unexpectedly, landing on top of his opponent. Turning to his back, the young man waits for his moment. Just as expected, the opponent swings a leg up, trying to escape, but is caught immediately. Neutralizing him from a normally disadvantageous position, the young but strong brother still manages to get both of his opponent's shoulders down and the referee calls for the defensive pin.

"WE ARE!"

Flash to a third still picture of the two boys— who have grown into big strong men. Both are in a hunched position next to one another, gilded in gold from medals galore along with three "Division I Champions" trophies underneath them. A whole team of amateur wrestlers stand behind them. Some flexing. Some posing. All showing their support for these two brothers.

Flashes from video clips happen in rapid succession.

One brother lifts an opponent up and smashes him to the mat with a brutal forward-facing front slam.

The other brother also lifts an opponent up with a waist-lock and deadlifts him to the mat with a German suplex.

The first brother flips forward with both arms tucked underneath his own, trapping him indubitably.

The same brother who German suplexed his opponent, traps his opponent in a side-mount, burying his face into the mat as he awaits the slam of the referee's hand to signify the pin.

"WE ARE!"

"Unless you continually work, evolve, and innovate, you'll learn a quick and painful lesson from someone who has."

The person's name who is quoted fades in:

~Carl Sanderson, Legendary PennState Wrestling Coach

"WE ARE!"

Silence. Followed by a lone graphic:

TWO OUT OF THREE FALLS: OSCAR BURNS vs. DEX JOY

DDK:

We've got our next match coming up and it has major potential to steal the show during our MAXDEF events. Two men - one still calling himself the present of DEFIANCE and another that wants to be its future - collide in a high-stakes rematch of one of DEFCON's most talked-about matches. Oscar Burns, He Who Is DEFIANCE, takes on "The Biggest Boy" Dex Joy in a two-out-of-three falls match!

Lance:

These two men have been nothing short of bitter rivals since the lead-up to DEFCON. Burns played games with The Biggest Boy for months, taunting him that he has the skill, but not the heart to handle being on top of this promotion for so long like Burns has, title or no title. Dex Joy defeated Oscar Burns clean as a sheet at DEFCON, but Burns didn't take that loss well.

DDK:

Oscar Burns continued his Dig Down Deep Challenge matches to prove himself as the best in DEFIANCE. And in the middle of that, continued to berate Dex Joy by referring to him as a special attraction wrestler. A man who is a sight to behold, but a man who can't stomach carrying the mantle of this promotion on his shoulders. Dex Joy had just narrowly lost to Deacon for the FIST at our ACE of DEFIANCE UNCUT Special, only for Burns to wage an all-out assault with his prized Golden Shovel, busting Dex open, giving him a concussion and putting him out of the ring for a month.

Lance:

But that wasn't the end of it. Oscar Burns challenged Dex Joy to this match, knowing full well he was on the injured list and could not accept right away... but when he least expected it, Dex made a surprise return and cost Burns his Golden Shovel to Rezin. Since that night, Oscar has completely gone off the rails. Since becoming this holier-than-thou human being, Oscar has usually been a jerk, but he went off on Dex Joy and promised to outright destroy him.

DDK:

A side of Burns we have rarely seen and one that Dex Joy is about to march towards. DEFCON showed that Dex Joy has what it takes to defeat He Who Is DEFIANCE, but in Two-Out-Of-Three Falls? I don't know. Dex Joy is a wrestler that puts his foot to the pedal and doesn't slow down all that much and that all-or-nothing style could work against him here. Either way... this one is going to be a spectacle tonight.

Lance:

You're right! Two big matches left on this show, but this is the biggest singles match tonight! Oscar Burns versus Dex Joy in Two-Out-Of-Three Falls. Let's go to Darren Quimbey for the intro!

The scene goes to Darren Quimbey.

Darren Quimbey:

The following contest is a two-out-of-three falls match! Falls can be earned by either competitor via pinfall, submission, disqualification or countout! DDK:

What a great success story that Dex Joy has become! He worked himself to the bone! He's shed over fifty pounds to be taken more serious in the ring! He's consistently proven himself to be a big match performer but tonight is the biggest test of his career against the best in DEFIANCE to ever do it!

Lance:

Dex Joy is ready to fight tonight and wants to turn MAXDEF into MAXDEX! He hasn't forgotten that concussion Oscar Burns gave him after hitting him with the Golden Shovel a few weeks ago! Lance:

That Golden Shovel has become everything to him. He awarded it to himself after being the first man in DEFIANCE to reach fifty career wins...and now that he's lost it, he's out of his mind.

Dex Joy watches as Oscar continues to SMASH the platform until it's been wrecked to shit. He tosses the bat aside as the pompous music continues. He rips off the shirt and tosses it to the ground, wearing generic black box-length trunks and boots devoid of his usual flash. With the new attire in mind, he heads to the ring and stares down Dex Joy, careful not to make a move. Burns walks up the steps, takes in the jeering fans, then wipes his feet on the ring apron before climbing into the squared circle to face the man he blames for all of his most recent woes. The two come nose to nose before official Benny Doyle separates them.

DDK:

How personal has this issue between the two become? Burns thinks of himself as Dex Joy's better... but nobody seems to have told The Biggest Boy that lesson.

Lance:

Dex Joy is 1-0 over Burns, but tonight, he'll have to find a way to defeat him twice. And if this match goes into deep waters like Burns suggested that it could... we could be looking potentially at an uphill battle for Dex.

Both Dex and Oscar walk back a few steps from each other at Benny Doyle's behest. Doyle calls for that bell!

DING DING

Burns and Joy both jump out right away and it is Oscar that gets the first hit in with a sharp toe kick followed into a cravate head lock. The hold is on tight when Oscar brings up his knees to hit Dex quickly. He makes the first move but Dex Joy backs himself into the ropes and then tosses Oscar into the other side. Dex comes back with a big body attack and he's the first to knock the Kiwi wrestler off of his feet!

DDK:

Lance:

If Dex can get an early fall based on this then he'll put himself at an advantage!

Dex punches away at Oscar's stomach to back him into a corner to land a chop. Oscar gets hit and wobbles out of the corner when Dex snatches him by the head. He uses a snap mare and then kicks him in the back to the cheers of the DEFIANCE Wrestling Faithful. The former FIST of DEFIANCE gets kicked around by Dex then the big man cocks back a fist and plants a firm shot right on Oscar's jawbone!

Lance:

Quite a right from The Biggest Boy! He's had it up to here with Oscar Burns berating his abilities, his talent and his place in DEFIANCE Wrestling. Now he's going to eat every word if Dex has his way!

The Biggest Boy has the entire DEFIANCE Wrestling fan base willing him to a victory. Burns goes up and then goes down just as fast with another chop by Dex. Burns trips back into the ropes when Dex stays on him with another chop. He's going to try it, but he catches a surprise European uppercut from the former FIST!

DDK:

Dex took too long there in that corner! If Oscar Burns can get an opening, he can beat you! That's why he has more wins than any other wrestler in DEFIANCE Wrestling!

Now tired of being chopped up by Dexy Baby, Oscar turns the tables on his attacker. Another uppercut then leads to hard elbow smashes from Oscar. Burns clutches Dex by his face.

Dex answers back not with words ... but with a head butt!

DDK:

Strikes on the arm! If Dex's arm is compromised in any way, that wide variety of power moves will be more difficult to pull off.

Burns works the arm over with another elbow, he uppercuts the elbow and then he hits another uppercut on Dex. He wants a single armed DDT but he can't get it because Dex swings from the other side using a heavy elbow smash from the right side. Oscar gets startled and then Dex starts grabbing for his waist. Burns pushes Dex into the corner and then runs behind him, but Dexy Baby has the crowd wide eyed when he leap frogs backwards with a push off of the corner behind Oscar and then using a released german suplex!

DDK:

Incredible move by Dex! He's beating the brakes off of Oscar Burns tonight and he deserves it for all that he has said and done to Dex for the past six months!

Dex seems to not have forgotten all of these events either. He rolls into the ring, he waves at Benny Doyle and then climbs out to make the official restart the count.

DDK:

He wants to punish Oscar out here and just got into restarting the count. That's all well and good, but if this backfires on him, he could get DQ'ed or counted out and that gives Burns a fall!

Oscar Burns is only now starting to get up after being tackled right into the rail. Dex grabs him and then tells the fans in the first row to move and a pack of fans scatter when they see he has a plan. The plan is simple ... throwing Oscar Burns right into a stack of open chairs! They get knocked in every direction after the impact with Burns now laying in the center of the pile! Dex apologizes to several of the fans at ringside but he climbs over the railing so he can pick him up and then throw him back into the ring.

Lance:

That's what happens when you purchase a front row seat to one of our shows! Sometimes, you're part of the action whether you asked for it or not!

DDK:

That's true! Now Dex Joy is taking that action back to the ring. He's just thrown Oscar Burns back in.

The Biggest Boy climbs back into the ring and then lays a boot to the side of the head to keep him down. He goes off the ropes then hits an elbow into Oscar's chest for a cover.

Oscar's shoulder is up after two.

DDK:

Burns kicks out but Dex might be getting close to the first fall of this match at this rate.

Lance:

Dex has him up ... but no! Burns with the counter!

When Dex has Oscar up back to his feet, he breaks Dex's grip and then nails him with another elbow and an uppercut that rocks him ... and then Oscar Burns jumps and hits a jumping enziguri against the side of Dex's head!

DDK:

That was a great combination by Oscar Burns using those strikes. Dex is out in the corner.

Oscar Burns finally is able to get back into the match, but getting roughed up by Dex for a while has made it so he isn't able to fight back immediately. Dex is in the corner when Burns runs in and hits the running European uppercut against his jaw. The first shot isn't able to get Dex off of his feet, but Burns tries again. Dex catches him and then puts him on the top rope ...

DDK

No! No! Hanging armbar in the ropes by Oscar Burns! He's cranking the arm! He's cranking it!

Benny Doyle is counting while Dex is hanging off the ropes by his left arm thanks to Oscar Burns. Benny Doyle makes a count.

Benny Doyle:

One ... Two ... Three ... Four ...

It takes until the count of four before the man who calls himself DEFIANCE lets go of Dex's arm. Dex is left on his knees with a twisted limb when Burns sneaks back into the ring and then clubs him in the back with a knee strike.

Lance:

Dex is down. When these men fought at DEFCON it was Oscar that targeted the leg. Now he has a target on the arm and that might be a real problem as this match goes on for a lot of his moves.

DDK:

Burns is perhaps the greatest mind in DEFIANCE Wrestling as far as ring IQ. Any one he's pitted against, he's already got plans on ways to hurt them.

Dex fights up and pushes him away, but Oscar Burns hits two knees to the chest in order to put Dex down on his back. He slams Dex Joy's hand on the mat and then bends the fingers.

DDK:

Not where Dex wants to be! He's really good at joint manipulation! He's got Dex's arms ... now look!

Almost just to show that he can, he has the finger of Dex bent backwards in a painful spot that makes Joy yell out in anguish!

Oscar Burns:

MY DEFIANCE!!! NOT YOURS!!!

He slams the hand back on the mat again and then hits a jumping stomp right down on the arm joint.

DDK:

Now he has the arm working over some. He's so dangerous with these holds. He can work over any limb you give him.

Lance:

And there's another knee to the head of Dex. He's down. And now where is Burns going?

He is on the second rope. He leaps off and then hits a second diving knee drop from the middle rope to the chest. But like Lays, he can't stop with just one.

DDK:

Oscar Burns doesn't go to the top rope hardly ever but right now he hit a flying knee off the second rope. What is next?

The man called DEFIANCE gets to the middle rope again. Dex is down and catches a second flying knee into his stomach. Joy can barely protect himself when Oscar gets up again on the middle rope.

Lance:

Three middle rope knee drops! All aimed right at the midsection for Dex Joy. That's going to weaken him!

That's exactly what Oscar is hoping for when he uses a lateral press on Dex.

One ...

Two ...

The fans are cheering with the kick-out of Dex escaping the pinfall! Oscar Burns doesn't spend any time arguing with the official and he's already in a headlock with an arm lock behind Dex.

Burns is doing what he does best and works on that hold! He's got the arm and the neck!

Lance:

Goodness ... I just realized! The head and the arm! Fifty works both, doesn't it? The hammerlock with the guillotine choke.

DDK:

Oh God, you're right! Good call! That deadly Fifty submission could be lurking!

Oscar Burns has a hold locked on. But when he gets him by the neck Dex Joy is already starting to fight because he doesn't want to give Oscar a chance to do any more damage than what he has already done. He starts to use the free right arm to wave for the ropes but Oscar won't relent on his grip.

"WRECK HIM, DEX! WRECK HIM, DEX! WRECK HIM, DEX! WRECK HIM, DEX!"

The Miami Faithful cheer on Dex Joy as he watches Burns try and pick himself back up. The wind has been knocked out of him after the modified cannonball senton and the quick rest period might be what is needed.

Dex goes right to Burns and lifts him on his shoulder to plant him against the corner. He strikes Burns in the ribs with heavy elbow strikes. His left arm hurts, but nothing wrong with his right. He keeps on hurling elbows into Burns' chest possibly to wear him out after he's been attacked by the arm. Fall two begins with Dex going on the attack again and grabbing Burns. No!!!

Lance:

He kicks out but covering up that arm to make sure it continues to be compromised. That's great.

He continues to put the weight on him again with another cover.

One ...

Two ...

No!!!

Another kick out but Dex kicks out and moves away so he can try and protect the arm again. Burns lets him head to a corner, thinking that he's going to be safe.

But he's not!

DDK:

Burns back on the arm ...

Dex swings around with his right to try and force Oscar away but he moves away and grabs Dex in a hammer lock. He tosses the hammer locked arm right into the corner and then pulls the arm in the ropes. He cranks back again with Benny Doyle making another ten count.

Benny Doyle:

Break it up! Break it up! One ... two ... three ... four ...

Oscar milks the count again for all it's worth and the damage is being done to his arm before the Kiwi goes back to work and DRILLS Dexy Baby's arm with more 12-6 elbows in the corner, then picks a leg out from under him so he's standing over him, then plants an elbow right into the top of his head! Dex collapses to the canvas, then that allows for Burns to grab the arm, he executes a handstand on the mat, then DRIVES the knee into the arm joint of Joy! He cringes and tries pulling back his arm, but the two-time former FIST continues to not give up arm control.

DDK:

Technical brutality here on display by Burns. Earlier when we said he was one of the best to ever do it in DEFIANCE, that wasn't a statement. That was a fact. But right now, he's got control of Dex.

Lance:

He may be down one fall to zero right now, but Burns isn't letting the pressure get to him. He knows he has Dex and needs to keep up the lead on him.

He stands on top of Dex and grabs both arms as he pulls him up... then brings his feet down on his chest!

Oscar Burns:

LET'S GO, BURNSIE!

STOMP STOMP STOMP-STOMP-STOMP!

Oscar Burns:

LET'S GO, BURNSIE!

STOMP STOMP STOMP-STOMP-STOMP!

Oscar Burns:

LET'S GO, BURNSIE!

STOMP STOMP STOMP-STOMP-STOMP!

The boo birds flock in full force in Miami, but Burns starts to ignore it and then kneels over the chest of Dex and presses both shoulders down with his arms.

ONE!

TWO!

NO- ARMBAR!

DDK:

NO! Dex took the bait! He gets his shoulder up, but Oscar grabs the arm and then tries to go right into the cross armbar!

Lance:

No! Dex trying to block! Dex trying to block!

He has the arms clasped together as best as he possibly can, but Burns quickly grabs the arm and then tries to kick! He continues to kick, but when he finally does, Oscar has the arm hyperextended!

DDK:

No! No! Dex has to get free! Dex might have to tap out!

Lance:

Will he, though? He's such a proud wrestler!

The Biggest Boy scrambles as fast as he can in order to get to the ropes. He fights and fights... and reaches out...

AND HOOKS IT BY A FINGER!

DDK:

Dex breaks free! Dex gets to the ropes! He'll have to break off the submission!

Burns does let go of the hold quickly and rolls back to his knees, knowing that the damage has been done. The Faithful go NUTS that Dex has made it, but Oscar makes sure that he gets there. He grabs the head and neck of Dex... but when he does...

Lance:

DEX-5! DEX-5! DESPERATION DEX-5!

Before Oscar could get Dex up for his next move, he gets surprised with a Dex-5 and PLANTS him with the fireman's carry facebuster! Both men are down, but The Foreman of the Wrecking Crew tries to hurry over.

Lance:

I can't believe that he was able to surprise Oscar with that! The Fireman's Carry Facebuster does exactly what it needs to do! Now he's trying to hurry and get the pinfall!

DDK:

Dex lays on top of Burns! Cover for the match!

ONE!

TWO!

But Burns quickly SHIFTS him over into a crucifix... INTO A GROUNDED GRAPS OF WRATH!

DDK:

GRAPS OF WRATH! GRAPS OF WRATH! HE HAS THE GROUNDED OCTOPUS STRETCH LOCKED IN! THE ARM IS BEING WRENCHED!

He once again continues to crank back on the arm with nowhere to go for Dex! He tries to fight... but with nowhere to go.

Dex Joy raises the hands...

THEN TAPS OUT!

DING DING DING

Darren Quimbey:

Your winner of the second fall via submission... OSCAR BURNS!

Burns releases the hold and then falls back to the canvas, having evened the score a bit for earlier.

DDK:

It's come down to this! Both men one fall a piece! Dex gets the first by ramming Burns into the corner with Jump For Joy! Oscar has just taken the second fall with a grounded Graps of Wrath! Dex might have been too proud to tap otherwise, but with another fall at stake, he had to make a choice and he made it to prolong his chances going into this last fall.

Lance:

This match is just like their bout at DEFCON... absolutely incredible! We've seen some amazing action with a VERY personal Unified Tag Team Title match to come just after this... but right now, we're here until we have a winner! Oscar Burns and Dex Joy want to end this issue between them for good!

The former Twists and Turns paces around the ring and knows that he has The Biggest Boy right where he wants him as soon as the rest period concludes. He continues to pace around.

Oscar Burns:

COME ON! RESTART THIS SO I CAN TAKE HIM APART!

Lance:

Wow. I've never seen Burns like this. Just so... I dunno what you want to call it. Almost bloodthirsty. He wants to legitimately HURT Dex Joy.

DDK:

That loss at DEFCON to Dex, as well as losing his Golden Shovel to Rezin thanks in part to Dex... he's been driven mad. I don't have another way to put it.

Benny Doyle gets between the two when Oscar starts to lunge. He can barely hold Oscar back, but as he does...

POW!

The Kiwi catches a surprise elbow smash from Dexy Baby! The blow stuns him and then Dex jumps to life, fighting more or less with one good arm as he delivers a second elbow right to Oscar's midsection! The Miami Faithful rally behind Dex as he yells out!

Lance:

The Wrecking Crew Foreman about to punch the clock! Come on, Dex, you can do this!

He charges off the ropes with his one good arm with every intent to take Burnsie's head off... but before he can do just that, Burns with a quick go-behind! He holds the neck of Dex and tries for a dragon suplex... but no! Dex breaks free! He turns around...

DDK:

Oooh! Hard Out Headbutt to the chest! Oscar Burns has Dex stunned!

Burns goes around him and all the weight he can muster... he pops off a beautiful bridging German suplex on the big man!

DDK:

Benny Doyle slides into position! This could be all!

ONE!

TWO!

TH... NO!

Despite the surprise attack, Dex kicks out! But the energy in the Watsco Center grows more frantic as the action presses on! Burns rolls over to Dex and then tries to lock him up.

DDK:

Graps of Wrath! He's trying for it! He's trying a second time! If he hits this, Dex is as good as done!

Lance:

Both men know what they have at stake! One win a piece! One more to put this rivalry to bed!

Dex is doing EVERYTHING that he can in order to keep from being fully locked in the Graps of Wrath from the standing position! He tries again to keep him wrapped up... but before he can, Dex musters ALL of the strength he can and then HURLS the former two-time FIST over him with a massive hip toss across the ring! It was done with the bad arm so Dex cannot follow up right away, but he does lean back in the corner to create some distance between him and He Who Is DEFIANCE.

DDK:

Joy saves himself with that incredible hip toss, but that could have hurt the arm further! He's trying to shake some feeling back into it!

Dex does just that, moving his left arm and trying to continue riding off adrenaline for the moment. Burns starts to stand in a daze when Dex Joy picks him up with the good arm for a simple scoop slam, only to follow up with a big falling headbutt to the chest!

Lance:

Great combination of moves by Dex! Once he hasn't done a whole lot. He's walked through the storm that is Oscar Burns so far, but how much longer can he weather it?

DDK:

He's gotta strike while the iron is hot and tonight, things haven't burned any brighter so far than they have right now!

Dex starts a quick run, but stops himself when Burns rolls away from the ring to loud jeers. When he sees Burns on the outside, he starts to get an idea and laughs as he looks out to the DEFIANCE Wrestling Faithful who are starting to catch on.

DDK:

He's not thinking what I think he's thinking?

Lance:

I'm thinking he's thinking it! The Whoa-pe!

Dex uses the uninjured arm of his and waves at the fans who start a big "whhhhooooooooaaa!!!" chant and then he hops off the ropes. He starts to get through the ropes but he gets stopped when Burns suckers him with a European uppercut!

Lance:

But I think Burns thought it too! I wonder if he planned for that!

It's a glancing blow but it is enough to stop Dexy Baby in his tracks. He backs up several steps while Burns laughs and touts his high ring IQ. He taps his head to say that he pulled the wool over Dex's eyes, but he spends a little too much time taunting. Dex charges quickly anyway...

DDK:

WHOA-PE!!!

Oscar thought that he got wise to Dex Joy's tricks, however Dex gave himself enough space to hit a less graceful but still very impactful Whoa-pe through the ropes! His left arm is still giving him a lot of trouble so it takes him more than a few moments before he is able to capitalize on what he just did. He grabs the back of Burns's hair and then puts him back under the ropes. When he is inside the ring, he takes a breath...

And then he hits the RUNNING SHOOTING STAR PRESS!!!

Lance:

What the hell?! How did he do that?!

DDK:

He shocked the world at DEFCON by doing that running shooting star press and now here he pulls it off late in the game! But the arm is still causing Dex some grief!

He cannot follow right away when Burns rolls away, but Dex eventually catches up to him and hooks his leg.

ONE ...

TWO ...

The count stops but not at three! Dex turns around and his heart drops into his stomach when he sees that Burns's foot is placed under the bottom rope!

DDK:

No! So close! Dex thought that he had him beaten right there, but when that arm was giving him issues Oscar took advantage and got himself closer to the ropes!

Lance:

Dex isn't done! I think he's calling for an end!

Dex has had enough of Oscar Burns and his mouth. Dex slashes a thumb across his throat and pulls Oscar far away from the ropes and goes to the middle of the ring. No longer near the ropes, he puts Burnsie on his shoulders and then looks for Dex Drive Dos. But the same move that defeated Oscar Burns from the brink of defeat at DEFCON...

Burns has a counter!

He kicks his legs and strikes the side of Dex's face with elbows and slides out. He grabs the arm and then he shoves Dex into the corner by his injured arm!

DDK:

Ooh! Dex Joy pulled the Dex Drive Dos out of nowhere when Oscar might have had him beat at DEFCON with his Fifty submission, but Burns was ready for it this time!

Lance:

And Dex ends up in the corner! That arm can't take much more damage!

Burns takes a few steps away from The Biggest Boy in the corner and then hits another european uppercut. Dexy Baby is rocked but he still remains standing so Oscar Burns takes advantage of the situation and then hits a running high knee into the chest of Dex. The second shot stuns him even more and that allows Burns to set him up for an exploder!

DDK:

OSCAR HITS A BRIDGING EXPLODER ON DEX JOY!!!

He holds the bridge!

ONE ...

TWO ...

THR ... NO!!!

Just as Dex Joy did moments ago with the cover, he is surprised that the sequence of moves was not enough to get the job done and keep Dex down for good.

DDK:

But Burns isn't done! He's going for the arm again!

He tries a seated arm bar on the Biggest Boy with pure intent to rip the arm out of the socket. He continues to try and put more pressure on the arm, but Dex takes the free arm and pushes Burns forward into the ropes. He recoils off the ropes and then catches Joy in the face with a surprise elbow to the face. Dex stumbles back when Oscar strikes him in the jaw with several more. He pelts him with about three more shots and with Dex down, he talks trash right to his face.

Oscar Burns:

I ... AM ... DEFIANCE!!!

He gears up to hit another knee strike, but he gets a shock when Joy pushes Burns away from him! He does land on his feet awkwardly and turns into a desperate discus lariat from the Biggest Boy! Both men are down in the center of the ring and neither man follows up!

DDK:

Dex is down! Oscar is down!

Lance:

Oscar argued that it wasn't in Dex's best interest to make this match Two-Out-Of-Three Falls due to a question mark with stamina, but Dex has been able to hang in there with DEFIANCE Wrestling's likely best pure wrestler between the ropes!

DDK:

But none of that is going to matter if neither man can make a comeback!

Dex is down on his side of the ring while Oscar is doing the same on his. Burns is the first of the two to start to get up, but Dex Joy is also not giving up and is right behind him. Dex tries grabbing Oscar's neck, but Oscar hits a big elbow first.

DDK:

Oscar Burns gets the first shot!

Dex takes the shot, then stares at Burns.

Dex Joy:

Bring it!

Oscar fires another shot but Dex continues to stare. And is even grinning.

Dex Joy:

I said ... BRING IT!!!

Burns throws another elbow, but Dex suckers him this time! He blocks it and then drills him with an extra heavy elbow smash on the side of his head that dizzies the former two-time FIST of DEFIANCE. Burns is groggy on his knees when Dex starts to get up and has hold of Oscar's arm. A rousing ovation rises from the Watsco Center. Dex gets Burns slowly up... and has him on his shoulders!

DDK:

Are we going to see the Dex Bomb?

He tries but before he is able to execute it, Burns rolls him back with a hurricanrana... but Dex blocks that move before he can take him over! He tries to get him up again, but his left arm gives out under him before he can do it! He drops Burns and Oscar lands to his feet to hit another elbow and uppercut combination.

Lance:

The arm gave out on him! Surprise it didn't do it when he first got him up for the power bomb, but it didn't work!

Burns grabs that arm, but Dex once more uses a shoot off and throws Oscar at the ropes. He comes back and gets pushed into the air...

DDK:

Pop-up into the Dex Bomb! What a move!

Lance:

That has to do it! This is it!

Dex falls into a seated cover and tries to hook a leg!

ONE ...

TWO ...

THR ... NO!!!

The kick out is somewhere in the vicinity of two and nine tenths, but Burns's shoulder comes up first before the three-count!

Lance:

Look at Dex! Look at Dex! He's showing serious doubt on his face right now after the Dex Bomb lands and Oscar still kicks out!

DDK:

He's landed some big moves! The Jump For Joy worked earlier as a surprise but right now, he needs to be able to land something bigger!

The Biggest Boy realizes this as well so he needs to get over to the corner. Oscar hasn't moved after the last kick out so Dex hits him with a few kicks to his chest and then drags him near a corner. Dex starts to tease pulling the straps down and does so!

Lance:

The straps are down! I think Dex might be looking for a moonsault out of the corner!

DDK:

That might do it. Rare move by Dex, but it's what won him the Southern Heritage championship to end Gage Blackwood's near record-setting run with that title.

Dex steps right over Oscar. He gets to the middle rope and with Dex's Wrecking Crew aka The DEFIANCE Wrestling Faithful on his side 100% he starts to position himself ...

But before he is able to, Burns shoots back to his feet!

DDK:

Burns jumps up! He's trying to stop Dex!

Dex tries shaking Oscar off of him like a dog shaking water off himself, but Burns hangs onto the ropes and continues throwing elbows to Dex's back. When he has Dex stunned in the corner, the man called DEFIANCE starts to pick him up and then wraps his arms around his waist...

DDK:

SPIDER GERMAN SUPLEX!!!

He drops Dex right out of the corner with the deadly german suplex out of the corner! Dex crashes to the ground and then Oscar sits up on the top turnbuckle. He slowly adjusts his positioning and turns carefully to face Dex, who has not moved since the original suplex.

Lance:

Oh no! He's going for the flying knee drop and this time off the top rope!

DDK:

HE HITS IT! DIVING KNEE DROP!!! RIGHT INTO DEX'S HEART!

Burns rolls after the diving knee drop right to the center of Dex's chest! He crushes him with the top rope maneuver and then goes for a leg hook and to make sure that he stays down!

ONE...

TWO ...

THRE ... NO!

RRRRRRRRRRRAAAAAAHHHHHHH!!!

An ovation erupts from the DEFIANCE Wrestling Faithful! Dex's shoulder is up right before the three count.

DDK:

How close was that? How close was that Lance?! This is a superhuman effort by Dex Joy tonight!

Lance:

I thought that was it! BUT LOOK!!! LOOK AT BURNS!!!

Instead of arguing with the official, he stands over Dex and pulls him up by the neck before attempting to lock in Fifty! The submission is wound up tight and now all he needs to do is to hammerlock the bad arm!

DDK:

He's got him! He's got him! Fifty! Fifty!

Burns is locked in and he screams with the submission hold locked in...

But to his surprise, Dexy Baby gets up again! He has the guillotine choke locked in tight, but Dex is starting to stand! He shouts as he surges on his feet! Burns won't let go ... but Dex scoops him up in his arms ... and THROWS Oscar into the air!

DDK:

NO! FIFTY COUNTERED!!! POP UP BACK ELBOW STRIKE!!!

Dex shakes him off with a jaw shattering back elbow! Dex gets him in the ropes and then he leaps off the ropes.

DDK:

DEXY'S MIDNIGHT RUNNER!!! HE GOT HIM!!!

The shoulder knocks Burns into the corner, but Dex isn't through! The crowd is on their feet when he looks to finish his offensive barrage! Dex has him on his good shoulder! He gives a thumbs up ... and then a thumbs down!

Lance:

DEX DRIVE DOS!!! HE NAILS IT THIS TIME!!! BURNS GETS SPIKED LIKE A LAWN DART!!!

Burns bounces off the canvas after the impact of the sit out piledriver from Dexy Baby and though his arm is sore he uses his good arm to hook both legs!

ONE!!!

TWO!!!

THREE!!!

DING DING DING

Darren Quimbey:

Your winner of the third and final fall ... and your winner of the match ...

DEEEEXXXXX JOOOOYYYYY!!!!

RRRRRRRRRAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!

DDK:

HE'S DONE IT! DEX JOY HAS DEFEATED OSCAR BURNS IN TWO OUT OF THREE FALLS!!!

Lance:

Burns worked over that arm like nobody's business! He was ruthless! He stayed attacking that arm and even got a submission out of it but at the end of the match, Dex found a way to counter Fifty before Burns could fully lock it in and hit that series of moves to close out the match!

The replays show the first fall! Darren and Lance recap as they are happening.

DDK: [V/O]

In the first fall when Burns first started attacking the arm, he went for a sleeper and arm lock, but Dex Joy carried Oscar Burns literally on his back and threw himself into the corner with a Jump For Joy, squashing Burns in the corner and letting him get the first fall!

Then to fall two.

Lance: [V/O]

It was here that Oscar Burns turned the match in his favor! He grounded Dex Joy using the Graps of Wrath while working over the left arm of Dex... and he would have no choice but to tap.

And onto fall three.

DDK: [V/O]

But it was here that Dex Joy got the last fall! He broke free from Fifty by literally throwing Burns up right into the pop-up back elbow strike! He knew that might not be enough so he struck down Oscar with another Dexy's Midnight Runner and finally, Dex Drive Dos for the three count and the win!

And back to Dex Joy who can barely move the right arm. Benny Doyle tries to raise it to show the victory but Dex pulls it away and tells him to use the right. Doyle walks over to the other side and then raises Dex's arm!

DDK:

Dex Joy shoved at DEFCON that he could hang with the absolute best in DEFIANCE Wrestling! Tonight, he could make a case that DEFCON was no fluke and when it comes to our promotion, there are fewer on the top of their game like he is!

Lance:

Agreed! Dex Joy is here to stay whether people like Oscar Burns object or not!

Oscar still has not moved and is still looking up at the lights, almost seemingly in disbelief over the situation. Dex throws his arm in the air and then he leaves the ring so he can pose against a sea of roaring fans near the front row with "DEX'S WRECKING CREW HERE!!!" signs!

Dex Joy:

That win was for all of us, pallies! All of us!

He starts smacking as many hands as he can with his good hand and heads back behind the curtain to celebrate this tremendous win!

DDK:

One match to go, partner! One match to go and it's a big one!!!

UNIFIED TAG TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP, STREET FIGHT: THE SATURDAY NIGHT SPECIALS Â© vs. THE LUCKY SEVENS

Back to the commentation station for the final time this evening.

DDK:

Well, ladies and gentlemen... this has been an absolutely electric night and that last bout will go down as an all time classic, no doubt. But as great as it's been, there is something in the air right now... as we have arrived at our main event of the evening.

The match graphic appears:

Unified Tag Team Championship, Unsanctioned Match: The Saturday Night Specials (c) vs. The Lucky Sevens.

The crowd, just coming down from Dex Joy/Oscar Burns, lets out a cheer as they begin to ramp up once again.

Lance:

This is such a unique matchup, ladies and gentlemen... this is a showdown that is nine months in the making, ever since The Saturday Night Specials retained over The Lucky Sevens at Acts of DEFIANCE last year, The Sevens have been on the warpath.

DDK:

Anytime these two teams step into the ring together, it's bedlam... but this whole situation is compounded by a wrinkle: The Lucky Sevens no longer work for this company! Thanks to their heinous actions against various DEFIANCE staff members and athletes, they were let go over a month ago.

Lance:

It took the destruction of Ballyhoo Brew, The Saturday Night Special's pub and a place that had become a DEFIANCE staple, for Pat Cassidy and Brock Newbludd to be angry enough to demand The Sevens return for this match tonight.

DDK:

So many questions going into this one. Has SNS played right into the twisted plans of The Lucky Sevens and Tom Morrow? Are Brock and Pat so fueled by revenge that they're going to take things to another level? Will their rage be a help or a hindrance against the more calculating Lucky Sevens? And what about Ophelia Sykes, the wildcard in all this: Pat Cassidy believes that she betrayed them and assisted The Sevens in the destruction of Ballyhoo, but she claims to be innocent and has said she WILL prove it tonight.

Lance:

The biggest question: what happens if The Lucky Sevens win!? Have we ever had champions that didn't work for the promotion before?

DDK:

Lots of questions... that are about to be answered... right now!

We move away from our dynamic duo as The DEFIatron starts to shift on ... and there is a horrifying sight once it does.

Ballyhoo Brew.

In flames.

DDK:

Oh my God! Oh my GOD!!! What is this?

Lance:

I'm speechless right now.

There is no music but the loud sound of ...

B00000000000000000000000000000000000000!!!!

There are a pair of twin seven-foot wrestlers coming down the ramp. They have on matching black jeans, black boots ...

And both have on Ballyhoo Brew t-shirts.

Darren Quimbey:

This is an unsanctioned tag team match for the DEFIANCE Wrestling Unified Tag Team Titles!!! Introducing first ...

The jeers are so loud, he has to yell.

Darren Quimbey:

INTRODUCING FIRST ... THEY ARE FROM SIN CITY AND THEY WEIGH A COMBINED WEIGHT OF SIX-
HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN POUNDS ... THEY ARE MASON LUCK AND MAX LUCK ... THE UUUUUUUUUUUCCCCCKKKKYYYYYY SSSSSSSSSSEEEEEEVVVVVEEEENNNNNSSSSSSS!!!!!!

B000000000000000000000000000000000000!!!!

DDK:

They have been fired from DEFIANCE and they have one final chance tonight to win those titles. We've seen them injure numerous people in the last few months just to get this title shot. Gage Blackwood, The Louisiana Bulldogs, and their own former trainers The House.

Lance:

We knew they were obsessed with those titles and the fact that the Saturday Night Specials got to them first just makes their blood boil.

DDK:

But to go to the lengths they have gone ... even getting fired in the name of getting the gold. They're beyond redemption.

The burning footage continues and the jeering is loud and the opponents haven't even touched yet. The brothers both climb into the confines of the ring and the appalling footage playing on screens finally disappears. Nothing but jeering fills the Watsco Center right now.

Well, that is until the announcement of their opponents!

Darren Quimbey:

And their opponents!

The Faithful erupt in anticipation as two lines of fire erupt on both sides of the ramp and quickly blaze their way up to the stage. When they reach it, the pair of trailblazing pyro split off in opposite directions until the entire stage is surrounded by a wall of burning pyro. The blaze burns high for a couple seconds before suddenly extinguishing itself, leaving the stage shrouded in a veil of smoke.
