FASHIONABLY LATE

DEFtv relocates from the intro to the talent parking lot underneath Climate Pledge Arena, where Tyler Fuse casually strolls through, heading towards the entrance doors. Tyler is sporting black jeans and a “GOOD, YOU?” t-shirt. He approaches the doors... but comes to a stop. A figure steps forth from the doorway and into the light. It’s Klein... in a trenchcoat... and a box.

A beat. Klein merely stands there. Tyler stares at him for about twenty seconds.

Tyler Fuse:

Good, you?

Another twenty seconds. Eventually, Tyler rolls his eyes.

Tyler Fuse:

Okay, this is cute. Doing my gig.

Tyler genuinely smirks.

Tyler Fuse:

Gotta hand it to you, no one’s done this to me yet. Anyway, move along or hold the door open for me. Might as well get this over with.

A slow clap stops The Game-Changer in his tracks. Turning around, Tyler watches as Elise Ares slowly walks forward. Her trademark LED sunglasses are replaced by dark black medical eyewear as a result of a good macing last week, but luckily for her The D is there to guide her in the correct direction. A big sigh escapes the elder Fuse’s lungs as he’s approached.

Tyler Fuse:

Jesus Christ, and I’m supposed to take you seriously?

Ares approaches, completely ignoring the comment.

Elise Ares:

Hey BBY... I have to say, my GAWD, do you always show up this late? At DEFtv 220 I could’ve sworn you were posted up in this doorway hours before the show started but tonight you made me wait in the back of this parking lot FOR-EV-ER. Don’t you know I have better things to do?

Tyler expresses indifference but Elise rolls on like the OG Player said something.

Elise Ares:

Full offense, I don’t want to hear your excuses BBY, the fact of the matter is that The D and I totes refuse to enter the arena before the enhancement talent. HOW-EV-ER I had to schedule an emergency therapy session because I haven’t been able to see clearly in two weeks because of your little surprise, and do you know what my therapist told me?

Tyler Fuse goes to answer, but Elise doesn’t pause long enough.

Elise Ares:

That was rhetorical, stay with me here. My therapist says that she’s been watching your behavior and she’s figured you out. You’re just projecting! This isn’t about me, this isn’t about D, this isn’t even about you being a little DEFCON loser. This is about you being the big brother... the protector... the “responsible one”... having to watch your little brother who is better than you at like... everything, walk around DEFIANCE mingling with the main eventers while you slink around backstage like a little weirdo being “different” to get some airtime.

The Leading Lady of DEFIANCE looks over the wrong shoulder to smile at The D, who quickly taps her on the shoulder to let her know which side he's on and she quickly looks the other way like she didn't just make a mistake.

Elise Ares:

This isn't about ME. This isn't about your wittle dweam matches being ruwined by not getting to face PCP. This is about the Faithful in there holding up their signs for CONOR FOR FIST! Or CoNoR... or cOnOr... I can't be bothered to remember. HOW-EV-ER that's something you're not going to have to worry about Tyler because as much as your little rat face creeps me out BBY, I'm going to do you a solid. If Conor does win the FIST of DEFIANCE, you won't need to worry about it for long BBY because I'm taking it right back off of him again. Meanwhile, you'll be doing the exact same thing you did with the ACE of DEFIANCE.

The D:

Wait, what did he do with the ACE of DEFIANCE?

Elise Ares:

Nothing. You see... BBY, you like to invoke the name of my family. You like to invoke my undisputed hotness. You like to give credit for my career to everything but me but when it comes to you... without the last name Fuse? You are nothing. You are a nobody. You are Kyle Shields with two less energy drinks and a less successful father. BBY, I've already lost one friend to a talentless nepobaby... it isn't going to happen again. So please, when you're in the ring tonight one-on-one with The D...

The D feints a punch toward Tyler, who doesn't flinch. Elise doesn't miss a beat.

Elise Ares:

...I highly suggest you don't do anything stupid because if you do... you won't make it to MAXIMUM DEFIANCE to have your dance with greatness you so desperately need.

Tyler stares back at her as she goes to move forward but can't without going around the target of her barbs.

Elise Ares:

This is the part where you go inside. You know... one foot in front of the other. Make sure the rest of the catering crew doesn't graze away all the good stuff.

Klein opens the door and waves happily to Tyler, diffusing the tension a bit. Klein steps aside to make way for Fuse as Ares waves her fingers vaguely in the direction of Intensity Personified... she thinks.

Tyler smiles, it looks like he enjoyed Ares' verbal attack.

Tyler Fuse:

Comparisons, eh? You think it bothers me Conor is more successful?

Tyler looks at The D.

Tyler Fuse:

I've got nothing against my brother. As for the ACE of DEFIANCE?

Fuse shrugs.

Tyler Fuse:

Shit happens.

Ares continues to point in the direction of the open door, while adding a bold faced yawn.

Elise Ares:

Toodles.

The D:

See that ass later Ty-Ty!

Tyler looks deadpan at The D.

Tyler Fuse:

Christ bud, you might be more annoying than her. Anyway, I've got an open space in the ring tonight. Before I beat the piss out of your teammate in San Francisco, what do you say I try you first? You'll have to develop a big boy attitude, though...

Klein keeps holding the door with body language suggesting "Jesus, this isn't over yet, get inside!" Needless to say, D looks at Ares and Ares looks at D.

The D:

Oh, the D's the biggest boy around sir, and you'll find out later!

The D gestures to his member as Fuse rolls his eyes and smirks at the same time. Tyler looks at all three parties and starts to walk inside but not before thanking Klein for holding the door open.

Through the box, it looks like Klein is relatively pleased with Tyler's politeness, to the point Ares and The D quietly wave that off. Tyler's a dick and should be treated as so.

Anyway, DEFtv moves on...

LONNIE LUCK & JACK HARMEN vs. HIGH FLYER & ARCHER SILVER

DDK:

We've got our opening match on deck and it's a big one with possible title implications! Archer Silver has been on a tear for weeks and along with his tag partner, High Flyer, have been making remarks about our Favoured Saints Champion, Lonnie Luck! Two weeks ago, it went well beyond comments when Silver and Flyer jumped Luck after a successful title defense over Declan Alexander!

Lance:

It was Jack Harmen who came to the aid of Lonnie Luck by helping fend off Silver and Flyer, which led to this match tonight! It will be Harmen and the Favoured Saints Champion joining forces against Les Enfants Terrible, the team of Silver and Flyer! This kicks off our final show heading into Maximum DEFIANCE, so let's take it to Darren Quimbey for the introductions!

The camera cuts to Hall of Famer Darren Quimbey in the ring, ready to announce the participants.

DDK:

Lonnie Luck and Jack Harmen have never tagged together Lance, but tonight is their opportunity against two of the biggest assholes BRAZEN has ever produced.

Lance:

While Lonnie is the FS champ, and Harmen has a storied career and a long pedigree of tag team excellence, High Flyer and Archer Silver are THE dominant BRAZEN tag team. We're seeing them on the big stage tonight for one of their first tag team matches. This is going to be a doozy.

Archer climbs up the steps, through the ropes, then sits on the top rope facing his opponent. The hood comes off at the same time as Flyer's mask! He throws it at his father, who catches it and throws it back! High Flyer complains to referee Brian Slater about what Harmen just did, but Slater points out rightfully that he started it. Flyer boots Lonnie in the gut and whips him across the ropes, but he hangs on to avoid going for the ride. He charges towards Lonnie, but Lonnie ducks and he goes through the ropes and out to the floor as well! Coming back from the commercial break, we find ourselves lollygagging around backstage with nothing relevant to look at for a good few seconds. An awkward moment passes. That is, until, a completely delirious Malak Garland (drunkenly?) stumbles into view. He looks like a complete wreck. Hasn't shaved in days, nay, weeks and there's maybe one or two bean sprouts protruding from his otherwise babysoft face. Garland is belligerent, shirt untucked, reeks of adult beverages and can't help but bump into anyone and everyone within a five foot radius of his crooked walking.

Malak Garland:

Whoops, pardon me. Excuse me. You're in my way. Hiccup. Move. Sorry. Grabbed your ass. Look at me. Hiccup.

He keeps bumping shoulders with production team members and then tries to "posture them up".

Malak Garland:

IDENTITY CRISIS - III

A flickering light buzzes overhead as Corvo Alpha steps onto the seemingly abandoned train platform.

The floor beneath his boots is cracked, uneven. Flakes of old paint curl off the wall like shedding skin. There are no signs of life. No voices. No air movement. Just the soft, distant hiss of something mechanical bleeding through the tunnels. His wide eyes warily take in the dim scene.

A metal sign overhead jitters, struggling to display the next departure in blocky, digital red letters. The names stutter in broken pixels:

TRUTH

...

He waits.

The first train screams into the station. Its steel carriages tremble, shaking the floor beneath his black boots. It rattles to a broken stop but no doors open. The windows are dark. Empty, maybe, perhaps not. As “smoothly” as it careened in, it jerks out of the station-stop. Alpha’s painted eyes squint to watch it’s flickering light fade down the blackened tunnel... before another screech heralds a second arrival.

A second train glides in, slower. The headlights blink as if in recognition. This one stops.

The sign above it flashes a single word:

WHO?

The doors hiss open.

There is no conductor, no bustling crowd to board. Just Corvo, standing at the threshold, staring into a faint blue glow at the other end of the car.

He steps inside and the train doors close behind him. When he wheels around he finds himself not on a decaying train, but in a locker room. The flickering blue glow dulls into the haze of fluorescent lighting. Tile replaces steel. The air thickens, humid and heavy.

Corvo turns, but the train is gone. Just a bench behind him. A stack of folded towels that don’t smell clean. The room is familiar, but wrong.

The benches are too short. The lockers too wide. Everything is off-model, like a replica built from faded, half-forgotten memory. Posters line the walls: promotional shots, title match cards, vintage logo banners. But none of the names make sense, none of them are recognizable. Half the faces are his. Half are someone else in his gear. He finds himself snarling at them and works to stop himself.

He walks the row slowly, scanning the locker doors. Each one has a nameplate. Every plate has been scratched out. Some violently. He stops.

One locker has no name. No lock. No scratches. Corvo places his hand on the handle.

The metal is cold. The door creaks open without resistance. It is empty and deep. And... bright? A humming light far inside calls to him. It expands and reaches for him. He reaches back.

Shoulders twist. Spine bends. He squeezes into the impossible space, sucked into the light until there’s nothing left of the room behind him.

And when he opens his eyes... He's somewhere else.

Somewhere soft & painted in bright primary colors; yellows, reds, and blues in equal and deliberate portions. The air is warm and inviting, it is silent, it is welcoming. It feels safe. At the center of the room, a young girl sits, working on a complicated puzzle.

The yellow bow tied in her hair bobs as she sets a piece aside and finds a different one, frustrated. Alpha tries to make the puzzle out. Some pieces are upside down. Some don't look like they belong at all. The image doesn't make sense. A blur of skin tones, painted streaks, shapes that might be eyes or mouths or nothing at all.

The young girl sighs and Corvo steps forward, tentatively taking a seat at her table. She smiles softly at him - as if she'd been waiting for him - and turns back to her work.

Does he know her? Something quiet and buried deep inside whispers he should.

Wordlessly, he starts picking up pieces and working on the puzzle with little success. The silence is broken by her tiny voice.

"Are you my daddy?"

The words echo and boom in his ears. Corvo blinks. His mouth opens, then closes. A pause.

"I... I don't know," he replies.

Tilting her head, she looks to the puzzle - then back at him.

"Do you know my name?"

Staring at her, the colorful walls of the room seem to pull back and fade away. She is all there is. Her name spills out of his mouth before he can think.

"Mirabelle." That's it.

She smiles. An unbidden tear rolls down his cheek and he self-consciously wipes it - and some paint - away. Where did that name come from?! Is he her-

"Look!" she exclaimed, setting one last piece in the puzzle. Suddenly it is completed. Alpha looks down at the table between him to see that the puzzle image is one of him - half painted, half masked.

Somewhere far beyond wherever he might now be, he hears a rhythmic clapping take hold. Something familiar. The young girl has tears in her eyes as well. Happy-tears, it would seem.

"It's YOU!" Mirabelle cries out.

And it is. Alpha looks at the puzzle once more and can no longer see the lines delineating each piece. It is suddenly whole. It is him. The clapping is louder, everywhere, all around him. Calling him.

Looking up, the chair she once sat in is now unoccupied. Panicking for a moment, he looks for her but only finds the galloping clap of his song. Rising to his feet, he clenches his fists, he closes his eyes.

When he opens them again, his pupils are awash in yellows, reds, and blues.

And black.

It's what makes people like La Angelita. Our Fury, Siofra, and our Familia Attack Dog, Kilgore, PERFECT. That you can't tell us shit because we will do what we want WHEN we want.

Siofra and Brooklynn smirk while Kilgore nods. Titaness continues with her own mic.

OSCAR BURNS vs. KILLJOY

DING DING

Returning from commercials, Benny Doyle calls for the bell and then has to immediately get out of the way of a charging Killjoy! OSCAR moves out of the way in the nick of time, but Killjoy stops himself with both hands in the corner. The Good Son turns around, only to eat a QUICK running European uppercut against the jaw! Killjoy is stunned and he fires off a number of uppercuts under the jaw of the massive monster with both the Familia and the GC Universe members at ringside cheering both sides on!

DDK:

Welcome back! If you're just joining us, we have OSCAR BURNS vs Killjoy under way! It was OSCAR who asked for this match against the unstoppable monster!

Killjoy eats two more uppercuts and is rocked. OSCAR grabs Killer by the waist as he heads out of the corner and tries to get him up and over for a gutwrench, but this is a big mistake as Killjoy grabs him by the side and spins OSCAR around before HURLING him across the ring to the shock of all!

Lance:

No way! OSCAR is about 250 pounds and Killjoy just shoved him off to the side!

Fuming, OSCAR looks over at both Uriel and Titaness at ringside and both waving sarcastically. BURNS moves out of the way of a stomp just in time before rolling back to his feet! He charges towards Killjoy and hits him with another big elbow smash and drills the temple of the masked monster. Sonny and the rest of the GC Universe at ringside continue watching, but when OSCAR tries another elbow, Killjoy takes the shot only to come right back...

THWACK!

Killjoy rushes in and CRUSHES the Kiwi with a huge body avalanche in the corner! OSCAR staggers right into his clutches and then gets dropped HARD across the knee with a massive pendulum backbreaker! Killjoy stares down at OSCAR with loud jeers from the Seattle Faithful while Mil Vuelas and DLJ are both watching.

DDK:

Killjoy is just dominating OSCAR BURNS right now! He has yet to get anything substantial going offensively.

Killjoy grabs OSCAR by his hair and tights and then throws him through the ropes. Killjoy then starts towering over Benny Doyle, hiding the fact that on the outside, Kilgore runs and SMASHES right into Burnsie with a huge running clothesline on the floor! Kilgore and Siofra both stand over OSCAR like hyenas while Uriel and Titaness laugh. Sonny Silver and the rest of the GC Universe watch on and try to warn Doyle to what's happening, but he's distracted by the monster in front of him.

Lance:

Goodness! Kilgore just ran right through him! In the short time we've seen these beasts together, they have worked incredibly well as a dominant force.

Kilgore grabs OSCAR and pushes him back into the ring at the feet of Killjoy. He grabs the arm and slams the crook of The Good Son's elbow with an uppercut, then wrenches the arm before bringing the elbow down across his arm! Killjoy yells out for a second, then tries to swing with his right hand. OSCAR ducks and then PUSHES Killjoy into the corner and simultaneously smashes his arm into the corner! He turns around for OSCAR to grab the arm and then connect with a double knee armbreaker!

Killjoy stares down OSCAR and then pulls the Kiwi back to his feet, only for OSCAR to grab onto his leg! The Good Son tugs at the tights of the Center of the GC Universe to try and get him to let go, but he doesn't. Killjoy lifts his leg up and slams OSCAR's face into his knee! He falls to the canvas again while The Good Son stands over the former champion once again getting ready to hurt him! OSCAR is in a bad spot right now as Killjoy grabs him by the waist...

CRASH!

And delivers an extra-stiff forearm to the back of OSCAR!

DDK:

We've barely heard Killjoy speak a word since Uriel Cortez recruited him into the Familia, but we know there's a smart man beneath that mask and that monstrous facade.

Once again, OSCAR is pushed into the ropes chest first and the recoil sends him right back into another big forearm to work over the back. BURNS is about to fall, but Killjoy grabs him by the waistband and then pushes him into the ropes again. When OSCAR comes back, he gets caught over the shoulder and SHAKEN into a violent bearhug!

DDK:

What strength by this monster on display! OSCAR is just around the 250 mark and he's being treated like a rag doll!

Sonny Silver and the members of the GC Universe continue to watch on from their side of the ring while the very full corner of Titanes Familia collectively cheer on The Good Son. Killjoy continues to ragdoll The Center of the GC Universe. OSCAR tries to pry his way out of the submission, but knowing that he can't, he employs the most technical of technical tactics...

Lance:

That's ONE strategy to take on this masked monster! He just twisted that mask around to impair Killjoy's vision!

Killjoy drops OSCAR BURNS and flails around before adjusting his mask. OSCAR who stumbles away and crawls through the ropes closer to the GC Universe corner for an extra safety net. He yells at Killjoy.

OSCAR BURNS:

I'M OVER HERE, YOU ROIDED-UP PONCE!

After fixing his mask, an incensed Killjoy charges towards the corner with a big boot, but OSCAR moves out of the way and intercepts the leg... then hits a DRAGON SCREW to the leg in between the ropes! The furious Killjoy finally collapses to a knee!

DDK:

OOOOH! WHAT A COUNTER BY OSCAR! He baited Killjoy and he just paid for it!

Seeing that the monster is now down to a knee, OSCAR climbs towards the ring and then enters the inside. Killjoy gets SMACKED upside the head from a rounding enzuigiri from the Kiwi while he's on his knees! Uriel and Titaness both growl in frustration as OSCAR sits up, looks their way and winks. The Seattle Faithful rally around the former two-time FIST as he lines up and then speeds towards Killjoy, CRACKING him in the face with a running dropkick to finally put him flat on his back! OSCAR pops up to his feet and almost seems to be remembering what it's like to have a crowd cheer him on! At Sonny Silver's insistence at ringside, he, Mil, DLJ, King and FLEX all get The Faithful behind him!

Lance:

Listen to The Faithful! And... and where's OSCAR going?!

OSCAR charges towards Killjoy and drops a big knee drop right into his chest, but doesn't stop there. He looks down at the monster, then realizes he needs a home run swing so he starts going to the top rope.

DDK:

A SATURDAY NIGHT SIT DOWN

PREVIOUSLY RECORDED

A decently lit but otherwise unimpressive office space located above Ballyhoo Brew in New Orleans. Three chairs are centered in frame: one with Brock Newbludd, smiling proudly sporting a "BORN OVER" t-shirt and with the Southern Heritage Championship slung over his shoulder. Next to him, a professionally dressed Christie Zane with papers in hand looking serious and ready to conduct this interview. And finally, the final seat has Pat Cassidy wearing jeans and a SNS t-shirt. Cassidy isn't looking dour, per say, but there's the hint of bags under his eyes and his usual out-going personality seems somewhat subdued.

Christie Zane:

Welcome. To the DEFIANCE Faithful, these men need no introduction. Brock Newbludd and Pat Cassidy hold the record of the longest reigning DEFIANCE Unified Tag Team Champions of all time. The Saturday Night Specials are perhaps one of the most popular tag team this company has ever seen, and this very building we're sitting in is a testament to that and their unique connection with the fans. Thanks for being here Brock and Pat.

Brock Newbludd:

You bet, Christie.

Pat Cassidy:

Shore thing.

Christie Zane:

We are roughly a month away from you, Brock, defending your Southern Heritage Championship against Pat. We saw that match up mere weeks ago, making this particular title defense a rematch of sorts. I understand that the request for this re-match came from Pat, but that you - Brock - said yes. Can you speak as to why you accepted this match against your buddy?

Brock Newbludd:

I accepted it because that's the type of champion I am, Zane. If someone wants to take a shot at me and this title, all they have to do is ask. It's really that simple. It doesn't matter if it's a piece of crap like Ned Reform, or my best friend sitting here, I will take on any and all challengers. I spent the entirety of 2024 playing bullshit games and jumping through unnecessary hoops just to earn a shot at some gold. That shit got old real fast, not just for me, but also for The Faithful. Those days are over, Zane. Titles are meant to be defended in the ring, and that's exactly what I'm gonna do.

Christie Zane:

Which brings me to you, Pat. We've seen what appears to be growing frustration on your part over the last several weeks. I've spent some time online, and I've seen the fans are worried. You and Brock have been an inseparable duo for five years, and in an industry where friendships rarely last, people are concerned that this title match might contribute to tension between you two. How would you respond to that?

Pat Cassidy:

Yeah. I've heard what people are saying. The slow creep to the break up of The Saturday Night Specials, right? Ol' Pat is losing it. Gonna "turn" on Newbludd any day now. Well, I have one message for those people...

Cassidy turns to look into the camera and gives 'em the ol' one finger salute.

Pat Cassidy:

Fuck off. This guy right heah? This is my BROTHAH. Most of you listening have no idea what it's like to be tag team partnahs. This ain't no "friend." This is a WAR buddy, kid. He and I - up and down the road. Beahs after the show, always onto the next fight, the next town, the next dumb story we'd laugh about in the morning. Didn't matter if I woke up in a hotel room, jail cell, or the upper level of the Wrestleplex... I knew this motherfuckah right here had my back. And I had his. And that's never gonna change, buddy.

Brock Newbludd:

You damn right. We've gone through too much shit together, good or bad, to let one match put a rift between us. Ain't no way that's happenin'. This man right here is about the closest thing to a brother that I've ever had and I consider it a damn honor to call him my partner. Cass hit the nail on the head, Zane. We're more than just friends, we're brothers in arms.

Pat Cassidy:

But I need you to understand something, Brock. Something I've been struggling to find the words to get across. Three months ago, I held my little girl in my hands for the first time. Fuckin' hell, man. It's like the world stopped turnin'. You look down at your own eyes on this little thing... it's fuckin' crazy. I thought I was ready, you know? I thought I'd strap her into one of those baby carryin' thingies and she'd come along for the ride, man. The third Saturday Night Special. Dad and Uncle Brock showing her the ways of the world.

Brock Newbludd:

I can't wait, bro! The world isn't ready for the future baroness of Ballyhoo! Now, I don't know a damn thing about raisin' a kid but I do know one thing. I know that Erin Cassidy couldn't ask for a better man to call 'Daddy'. Take it from a guy who grew up with a genuine piece of shit for a Dad...you're more than ready and you're gonna kill it. We're gonna have to clear a wall off in the bar to hang all your "Father of the Year" awards, brother!

Cassidy gives Brock a half cocked smile and Newbludd's eyes narrow slightly. He locks eyes with his friend.

Brock Newbludd:

Listen. I know you're nervous, Cass. You got every right to be and I'd be feelin' the same in your shoes. But, have a little faith in yourself, buddy. I know I do. Shit, not just me, everyone does.

Pat Cassidy:

Yeah. I'm sure it will be like that, man. You're gonna be a big paht of this little girl's life - no question. But shit, dude - do you know what I wasn't ready foah?

Cassidy looks down for a moment, seemingly to choose these next words carefully.

Pat Cassidy:

This little person - this fuckin' heart stoppin' wonder of a human bein - depends on ME. Do you know what that means? It means formula, it means diapers, it means doctors visits, it means 2am emergency room visits for a fever while I shit myself and realize that the entirety of my happiness and joy in this world is now inside this fraile little body and what the FUCK what I do if anything happend to her? I can deal with Gahland, or The Sevens, or Vae Victis... but anything happening to my little girl would fuckin' BREAK me, dude.

Cassidy looks back up, looking toward his tag team partner.

Pat Cassidy:

When I look at her - this tiny, perfect thing - I don't see freedom anymoah. Responsibility. Pressure. Fear. I see the weight of every single choice I make. It's not just that I can't live the old life anymore. It's that I don't want to. I can't disappear for two weeks on the road and pretend nothing back home matters. I can't wake up hungover in some motel and shrug it off like I used to. But that's not the worst of it, kid.

Keen observers notice Cassidy's fist clench and his voice take on a harder edge.

Pat Cassidy:

CAN I even do this shit anymore!? We've both always been able to take an ass kickin' - it's part of our charm. But what has my last year been like? I went on the shelf at DEFCON. I was out for months. I let that fuckstick Gahland lure me back too and hurt myself again. Do you know what people were doing backstage for my first match back? They were all gathered around the monitah waitin' to see if I was gonna hurt myself again. What the fuck, dude. Is that who I am? Am I one more injury away from not being able to do this? And then fuckin' what?? This is all I know how to do! I'm not good for anything else! How the hell am I supposed to provide for my family if I'm suddenly broken down and washed up at thirty-fuckin'-years old!? Malak Garland is caught backstage by cameras once again and yes, once again he seems rather rattled.

If Malak rubs his chin any harder, he's surely to hit his chin bone.

Malak Garland:

While I've been HYPED about receiving the news I have a match at MAXDEF, I can't lie. The shine on it didn't last long. I'm fretting because my opponent is a mystery. Gosh golly, why can't anything just GO RIGHT for me now?

Malak doesn't know what to say.

Tyler Fuse:

Don't worry, bud. It's not me you're wrestling at MAXDEF, I already have an opponent. Got an opponent in a moment, too...

Relief crosses Garland's face.

But Tyler reaches out and starts dusting off Malak's shoulders.

Tyler Fuse:

While you and my brother may have finished your business, whenever you do get your 'mojo' back, I'll be waiting.

Fuse leans in towards Garland's right ear.

Tyler Fuse:

'Cause I'm gonna kill you.

Garland's eyes go wide in fear. His wheels are spinning.

Malak Garland:

But like, figuratively, right?

A rush of urgency sweeps across Garland's face, since Tyler doesn't reply. Thankfully, Malak reaches out, past Tyler Fuse, to someone else walking down the hallway.

A savour!

The Faithful cheer as the camera swings past both of them, catching Conor Fuse walking by in the far distance. By now it's clear, Conor DID see the two of them but wanted nothing to do with it.

However, Garland's flagging is so obnoxious (he REALLY needs help), it's impossible for Conor to ignore.

The Ultimate Gamer stops, looks at the ceiling and closes his eyes. He gives a huff and changes course towards them.

Conor Fuse:

Conor looks at Malak and then his brother. The former FIST of DEFIANCE (Malak that is - Conor isn't in the record books), is quick to reply.

Malak Garland:

Malak seems to have gained a little confidence with Conor in the picture.

Malak Garland:

Don't make me get the band back together.

Usually patient and calm, the younger Fuse and upcoming challenger for the FIST is nowhere near the typical pop'n'happy dude.

Conor Fuse:

Look, guys. I get it, I do.

Conor looks at his brother.

Conor Fuse:

Tyler, I know Malak's a moron and if you still feel the need to get back at him, please, by all means. However, I'm not getting involved. Believe it or not, Malak, you're small time. I got a serious situation and real revenge on my mind. The last thing I need is to deal with this shit.

Garland is extremely butthurt by the "small time" comment. So much so, he decides to flick Tyler's hand off his shoulder. So Tyler shoves Malak hard in response while Conor tries walking away, but Garland isn't going to let him. Malak reaches out and snatches Conor by the shoulder.

Malak Garland:

HEY, Conor! See, I didn't say cOnOr! Tyler pushed me and you're just gonna leave!?

DEFSec are on the scene and pull the two apart from one another.

Meanwhile, in the distance, Conor Fuse grows increasingly frustrated, shaking his head.

The D better be careful. He's got an opportunity for the Unified Tag Team Titles at MAXDef, but to become champions again, they're going to have to go through both Violators, the Atomic Punks, and the reigning defending champions, the Rain City Ronin.

Fireworks shoot up in pulses of pink and blue as Keyes stands on the stage, FIST firmly around his waist. Lindsay Troy is behind him in a Besties tee and a PRIME-blue blazer.

"BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!"

It's a steady stride to the ring, maybe a little less haunch-strutty than we're accustomed to seeing Keyes ahead of matches, maybe a little less blatantly disrespectful to his opponent than we're accustomed to, too.

Lindsay and Ami lock eyes. The layers would take a couple hours to fully unpeel.

Keyes approaches the corner and slaps the top ring step with some vigor before powering ahead and aggressively entering the ring, unstrapping the FIST in a fluid motion and holding it high in the air, his free hand pointing to his winking left eye.

With both competitors standing face to face in the ring, Darren Quimbey steps up to the apron to make the intros, only to be shooed away before he can step through the ropes.

The Merry Mischief Maker is handed a microphone by a tech and steps to center ring.

Ami Troy:

Seattle Faithful!

RAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHH!

Ami Troy:

Guys, gals, and nonbinary pals!

RAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHH!

Ami Troy:

It's my pleasure to introduce the man standing to my left!

Quick camera cut to Kerry, then back to Ami.

Ami Troy:

He stands at six feet, one inches tall and weighs in at a mean two hundred and fifty-four pounds! He hails from RIGHT HERE in the EMERALD CITY of SEATTLE, WASHINGTON...

BIG HOMETOWN POP!

Ami Troy:

He is...the Emerald Apex! The Seattle Beast! And your NEXT FIST of DEFIANCE! KERRY....KUROYAMA!

Kerry looks out to the crowd, then looks back to Ami and gives her a wry grin.

DDK:

Hey, she did pretty good. Not bad for a first-timer.

Lance:

Well when you come from the family that she does, I think it's to be expected, right? Plus, from my notes here, Ami also manages a decorated tag team called the New World Trash - Bex Savage and Angel Quinley - as well as her brother Kaz Troy on occasion.

DDK:

So not exactly her first rodeo, just her first rodeo on a big stage like DEFIANCE.

Ami steps aside and concedes the center ring to her mother. The Queen steps up and smirks at the pint-sized purple powerhouse.

She grabs the side of her military coat and whips it behind her, then extends her right arm into the air with a flourish.

Slowly, the OLD SKOOL MIC~! is lowered to the ring, but it looks VERY different.

What was just a simple shiny chrome microphone before has been absolutely BLINGED OUT~! in mostly pink Swarovski crystals. Because it's Wednesday, duh. For a little added touch, there are PRIME blue colored crystals as well.

DDK:

If Sonny's watching this, he must be having a stroke.

Lance:

I can't decide if I think that's a good thing or a bad thing, partner.

The OSM~! finally finds its way into LT's hand.

Lindsay Troy:

Greetings, Seattle!

RAAAAAHHHHHHBOOOOOOOOOO!

Lindsay Troy:

Ami. Kerry.

They both nod at the Queen.

Lindsay Troy:

Kerry, my daughter's not wrong. You may be the next FIST of DEFIANCE. One day. That day won't be today.

Kuroyama snorts a little, expecting this.

Lindsay Troy:

Because the man standing to my right has done EVERYTHING that has ever been asked of him. EVERYTHING! Work with a selfish rookie like Van Carver? DONE! Be a happy, quirky little airship pirate and act like a caricature instead of who he really is? SURE! Pretend that Chance von Crank wasn't a disgusting piece of shit? OKAY! Pal around with cOnOr fUsE despite cOnOr being a narcissist and self-involved and only caring about himself? CAN DO!

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

Lindsay Troy:

And as soon as he started caring about what he wanted instead of what others wanted of him? That's when he wasn't your "happy, quirky little airship pirate" anymore, was he? No. That's when he became THE KRAKEN. THAT'S when he became the SCOURGE of DEFIANCE. THAT'S when, instead of BOOING him, you all should have STOOD UP and TOOK NOTICE.

But it's too late for that now.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

Lindsay Troy:

So, Seattle, you may be backing a Beast, but I am backing a MONSTER. He stands at six foot three inches and weighs in at two hundred and forty nine pounds. He is the REIGNING, DEFENDING, FIST OF DEFIANCE! HE IS MY BESTIE.....THE KRAKEN.....HENRY KEEEEYYYYEEEESSSSSSSS!

Slater receives the FIST, and holds it up to the four cardinal directions of the arena for all the fans to see. As mother and daughter step out to ringside, Keyes and Kuroyama approach each other in the center of the ring, shake hands in a show of mutual respect, and back into their designated corners.

Lance:

Take a picture, Keebs. This is probably the only time we'll ever see members of Vae Victis on opposing sides again.

DDK:

There's no telling what will happen when the elites go head to head! Right now, Brian Slater looks ready to get this underway, and he cues for the bell!

DING DING

Champion and challenger methodically step out of their corners and approach the center of the ring. The arena is roaring; despite the mutual respect between the opponents, it's clear who they're favoring tonight.

Lance:

I don't know if the question has been asked yet, but... what happens to the hierarchy of Vae Victis should the FIST change hands tonight?

DDK:

I couldn't tell you, Lance. Perhaps they'll cross that bridge when they get to it.

Keyes and Kuroyama cautiously encircle one another through the opening moments of the match. Neither one looks entirely interested in making the first move, instead focusing on the other's movements and waiting for an opening to appear.

After a few seconds, Kerry at last straightens up and holds up a hand.

"RRRRRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!!"

DDK:

Kuroyama is calling for the test of strength, with overhead knuckle lock!

Lance:

Gotta give the people what they want.

Keyes grins and chuckles. But egged on by the raucous Seattle crowd, he reaches up and accepts Kerry's hand. Then, both hands are interlocked. Instantly, their bodies quake from the intense pressure of their opposing strength pushing against one another.

Kerry slowly leans Keyes back, and the Faithful cheer. The FIST rallies, pushing Kuroyama back the other way, and they boo. Kerry forces himself back up into a stalemate.

Lance:

If these guys did this every day, they'd be champions at limbo.

DDK:

Well, the championship on the line tonight requires going OVER the bar, rather than below it.

In a flash, Henry draws Kerry in and traps him into a side headlock. He wrenches the head while Kuroyama leverages him for control. Eventually, he slips a hand through the champion's grip, and twists himself free into a standing wristlock.

Kerry torques the arm, prompting Henry to slap feeling back into the shoulder. A second later, Keyes seizes the wrist with his free hand and reverses the lock right into a drop toe hold, parking Kuroyama on the canvas where he readily jumps into a chinlock.

DDK:

The FIST of DEFIANCE, with the successful takedown, now wrenches back on the head and neck of the challenger, Kerry Kuroyama! But Kuroyama is already fighting his way up!

Refusing to stay down, the Emerald Apex works his way up to his knees. Grinding his teeth, the Kraken props a knee into his back and pulls back harder. Kerry reaches up and grabs the hands ensconcing his jawline, eventually prying them loose.

Keyes attempts to press his advantage by pulling the challenger into a dragon sleeper, but Kuroyama quickly counters with a snapmare that draws a pop from the crowd. The Kraken scrambles to his feet as Kerry charges him down...

DDK:

Kerry in motion... Keyes with a HIP-TOSS--NO! Kuroyama blocks... and catches him with the knee lift!

Lance:

And the champ looks slightly rocked by that one!

Keyes reels off the impact and lets gravity carry him back to the safety of the corner. Kerry turns back to the crowd and pumps his fists, getting another big pop. Wincing slightly, Henry clutches his jaw and shakes his head... then his grin reappears as he stares back at Kerry.

Lance:

Methinks Henry Keyes is going to hang onto that receipt for later down the line...

DDK:

Kerry Kuroyama lands a blow early on in this contest, but here comes the FIST out of the corner... and no messing around this time! He goes right into the lock-up!

There's more force and ferocity in this tie-up. Keyes digs his feet into the canvas and forces the challenger into backpedaling into the ropes. Slater steps in and calls for a break, but before that can happen, the Kraken pushes Kerry off the ropes and across the ring.

Kuroyama rebounds. Keyes drops down for a back body drop, but Kerry tumbles over his back and hits the ground running.

DDK:

Kerry Kuroyama has a head full of steam... coming back with a Yakuza Kick--NO! Make that a Yakuza WHIFF, as Keyes DUCKED in the nick of time!

Kerry rebalances, and keeps running. Keyes launches himself off the opposite set of ropes. Their bodies COLLIDE at ring center with opposing shoulder blocks that force the ring posts to shudder. Champion and challenger stare at each other stunned for a second before throwing themselves into the ropes once more.

Lance:

Both men are really picking up the pace now.

DDK:

Keyes going one way, Kuroyama the other... here's the Kraken, coming back with a LARIAT--no, DUCKED by Kerry! Now Kerry from behind--NO!! A HEADBUTT stops the dragon suplex!

In seconds, Keyes frees his arms from Kuroyama's full-nelson, and instinctively throws on a three-quarter facelock of his own to drop him like a bad habit!

DDK:

TEXTBOOK ACE CRUSHER puts Kuroyama to the canvas! The FIST now going for the first cover in the match!

One!

Two!

And there's a kickout!

Lance:

Plenty of fight left in Kerry Kuroyama, but the reigning champ is no longer treating this as a friendly bout.

Keyes scoops Kuroyama off the mat and lays him up against the turnbuckles. He rears back the arm, and...

SMMMMAAACK!!

SMMMMAAACK!!

DDK:

Lance:

The Kraken is really laying it in... but no punches are pulled when the FIST is on the line.

Kuroyama is left winded and gasping for air after the strikes to his ribs, leaving him gasping for air. Keyes doesn't let him rest long, taking hold of the arm and whipping him across the ring. Kerry bounces shoulder-first off the opposite set of turnbuckles, but rolls off the impact into a discus pivot...

DDK:

Kuroyama into the corner after the Irish whip... but he comes back with the SQUALL LINE LARIAT--NO!! Ducked and COUNTERD into a POP-UP EUROPEAN UPPERCUT by Henry Keyes!

Lance:

Keyes looks as though he knows many of Kerry's moves by heart.

DDK:

Keyes with a bounce off the ropes... BIG KNEE DROP across the browline! And now he hooks the legs for the cover!

One!

Two!

Another kickout!

Seattle cheers on their boy Kerry, but the Kraken is exuding the confident energy of a champion who knows he's in control of things. Immediately following the kickout, he tucks Kuroyama's head under his arm and rolls him into a front facelock to keep him set on the mat.

Lance:

The FIST, Keyes, knows it's all a matter of wearing down the challenger at this point, until the fight has all but left Kerry Kuroyama.

"KER-RY!! KER-RY!! KER-RY!! KER-RY!!"

DDK:

Henry is squeezing hard on the head and neck of Kerry Kuroyama... but the Emerald Apex will not be held down! These fans are getting behind him and willing him to stay in this fight!

Wrenching in the chancery, Henry Keyes nonetheless shakes his head in surprise as Kuroyama pushes himself back to a vertical base. From there, Kerry plugs away at the FIST's exposed sides with a series of sharp jabs. The champion smarts from the impacts, but quickly shuts it down.

DDK:

FOREARM across the back of Kuroyama ends any attempt for him to break free... now Keyes throws the arm over his head, hooks the leg... looking for the FISHERMAN--NO WAIT, SMALL PACKAGE!

One!

Two!

KICKOUT!

Lance:

We were half a second away from seeing a new FIST here on DEFtv!

Keyes scrambles to his feet, the frustration showing plain as day on his face. He meets Kerry before he can get up with a stiff FOREARM to the side of the head to knock him back to his knees. Kuroyama tries to rise up, only to be met with a SECOND forearm to keep him down...

On the third attempt, the arm of the Emerald Apex suddenly shoots up to block the champion's, and a sudden standing dropkick catches Henry Keyes square in the chest, forcing him to fall to the ropes to the outside.

"RRRRRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!!!"

DDK:

What a comeback for Kerry Kuroyama! The FIST has brought forth a dominant physical assault, but Seattle's BEAST has thus far stood his ground!

Lance:

We all knew that a match between members of Vae Victis was going to be an immovable object against an irresistible force. I'd say these two are proving the theory.

Keyes quickly rallies back to his feet out at ringside, buying himself a moment to assess the hull damage and fine tune the engine. Likewise, the challenger standing tall in the ring uses the opportunity to get his second wind and work the crowd into a fever pitch.

Brian Slater methodically counts away, but doesn't get further than the four when the FIST scales the steps back to the apron. He locks eyes with the challenger, and the two nod before he steps through the ropes. Immediately, Keyes and Kuroyama throw themselves into another lock-up.

DDK:

Keyes and Kuroyama back into the tie-up, back on equal footing once more!

Lance:

And now, neither one of them is holding anything back!

The crowd noise is practically booming as Henry and Kerry relentlessly slug away at each other from the lock-up. They throw right hands for nearly half a minute before either set of legs turn to rubber and they break apart.

Both competitors quickly snap off the ropes. Henry goes high, but Kerry goes low, landing a shoulder square into the champion's breadbasket. Kuroyama wraps the arms into a waistlock, but Keyes quickly fights him off with a double-axe handle to the back. The Kraken ensnares Kuroyama into a waistlock of his own...

DDK:

Keyes on top here... and LIFTS KERRY into a TILT-A-WHIRL BACKBREAKER! Now he hooks the leg... will THAT do it?!

ONE!

TWO!

NO!! Kuroyama gets the shoulder up!

Keyes begins pulling Kuroyama off the mat, but as soon as he's up to a knee, Kerry swats Henry's arms away and bursts up to his feet to deliver a HARD right hook.

"YAAAYYY!!!"

Keyes reels, and responds with a hard right of his own.

Kuroyama pushes Keyes off the ropes, but the Kraken instinctively parks his foot and reverses the momentum to send Kerry in his stead. The Pacific Blitzkrieg hits the far set of ropes and comes back, his head in perfect alignment with the champion's spinning back--

DDK:

YYYYYYAAAWKUZA: DEAD SOULS KICK!!!

The champ survives that yakuza kick, but Kerry's got a psychological advantage right now. He knows he has a chance to win this, and he's going for it.

The FIST rolls over and shakes out the cobwebs, until Kuroyama wraps him up around the waist and begins the symphony of suplexes. A gutwrench puts Keyes on his belly. Kerry transitions around behind him and Germans him onto his back. He rolls through, locks up the champions arms into a full nelson, and snap-dragons him overhead to send him flailing across the ring.

DDK:

Kuroyama stays on the champion, wrapping him into another overhead waistlock to pull him to his feet. But just as he begins the lift for an inverted powerbomb, Keyes stuns him with a sharp fist to his ribs.

Before Kerry can react, Henry Keyes bursts to lift, first bull-rushing him to the corner to slam him against the turnbuckles and then quickly lifting him off his feet and setting him on the turnbuckle. The Emerald Apex tries to swing, but gets a HEADBUTT to the face for his efforts. The Kraken soon joins him up him top...

Keyes winces from the impact of his palms striking one another. As he stands stunned, Kerry desperately pulls himself up with the help of the ropes.

The champion twists around clockwise. The challenger spins counter, arm outstretched. Henry's spinning back elbow connects first, but only amplifies the impact of Kerry's discus lariat. Bodies fly through the air and land in heaps across from one another. Seattle "OOHs" as if it had just witnessed a bomb being dropped.

DDK:

GOOD GOD, what a DOUBLE IMPACT! Both competitors are laid out after that one! These two are going to their absolute limits for the FIST here tonight!

The crowd cheers loudly -- at this point, in applause toward both competitors putting on this physical display. But then a contingent of jeering grows in volume when more and more people notice three figures stepping through the curtain...

Lance:

Oh boy... look who decided to show up, Keebs.

DDK:

LOS CAÍDOS?!

"BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!"

The jeering amplifies at the sight of the masked trifecta of Corey Nunez, Gerardo Villalobos, and Mike "Lips" Gonzalez filing out onto the stage.

DDK:

What business do they have out here?!

Lance:

I'm no expert in Nietzsche, but I imagine they're picking up right where they left off at the last DEFtv.

DDK:

Kerry's attracted the ire of this pack of jackals as of late, thanks to the presumed hold they have over his former friend and tag partner, Scott Douglas. Hang on, where is Victor Vacio right now?!

Slow and methodically, the former Barrio Boys descend the rampway and approach the ring... only to stop, the minute they see someone standing in their path.

The QUEEN herself. With a look on her face that simply screams, "Just try me."

DDK:

Whatever they have in mind... Lindsay Troy is having NONE of it!

Lance:

I don't know, Keebs. They do appear to have the numbers advantage.

LT looks between the pack of masked underlings on the rampway and to the ring, where the action continues to unfold. As a veteran of the game for many years, she's practically gained a sixth sense in sketch-detection. And everything about this is very sketch.

She waits for Los Caídos to make the first move...

...but before anything can happen, a purple and black BLUR buzzes by her and unleashes pure fury upon Corey, Gerardo, and Lips.

DDK:

So anyway... AMI just starts BLASTIN'!

Lance:

Cleary, Kerry's new manager has no apprehensions with throwing herself to his defense.

LT rolls her eyes, but with the situation being three-against-one, she begrudgingly goes to join the Merry Mischief Maker in the ancient Troy family rite of the thumping of the skulls.

DDK:

Los Caídos are no doubt second guessing whatever their plan was, because within minutes of coming out, they are getting absolutely WRECKED by two generations of Troy!

The fracas has caught the attention of Slater, who now approaches the ropes and commands the uninvited guests to leave the ringside area. But even if they did obey the request, the three of them appear to be preoccupied with having their asses handed to them to be able to leave.

Behind the official, Kerry Kuroyama is the first to rise to his feet. But the moment he's up, someone slides into the ring behind him...

DDK:

SCOTT DOUGLAS IS IN THE RING!!

Lance:

Which means the other three were just decoys!

Through his black mask, Douglas gazes into the back of Kuroyama's head, hunched low and looking coiled to strike. Unsurprisingly, Victor Vacio, the puppetmaster himself, is also there, standing out by the other end of the ring and watching Douglas close.

DDK:

He's got Kerry Kuroyama in his crosshairs! He's about to cost him this TITLE MATCH!

Douglas takes a step forward...

...and... stops?

DDK:

HUH?!

Scott stops himself mid-strike, head rolling and then shaking as if fighting off intrusive thoughts. A moment later, Kerry twirls around. The Faithful pop HUGE as the former members of Seattle's Best find each other standing face to face in the middle of the climate pledge arena.

"HO-LY-SHIT!! HO-LY-SHIT!! HO-LY-SHIT!! HO-LY-SHIT!! HO-LY-SHIT!! HO-LY-SHIT!!"

DDK:

Did you see that, Lance? Douglas hesitated!

Lance:

I thought it looked that way as well!

Brazenly, Kuroyama approaches Douglas until the two are nearly chest to chest. Kerry speaks desperate words that go unheard into his old friend's face. It's unclear if they're even being heard.

But before either one can act...

DDK:

NO! VACIO pulls Douglas from the ring!

Lance:

Not today, he says.

Victor orders Douglas back over the barricade to lead their retreat. He quickly follows as soon as he sees Ami Troy coming at him like a purple buzzsaw of death. On the other side of the ring, the Queen of the Ring likewise runs off the other members of Los Caídos.

DDK:

At least this match survived whatever plot Victor Vacio had in store!

Lance:

I wouldn't be so sure, Keeps.

With rage burning in his eyes, Kuroyama furiously stares after the retreating Vacio and Douglas.

Meanwhile, the FIST is on his knees, waking up to a raucous crowd and a scene of commotion. He pushes himself up to his feet and approaches Kerry from behind, getting his friend's attention by way of a hand to the shoulder--
